MEXICAN TROOPS ARE IN HOT PURSUIT.

General Prieto, Commander Insurrectos, Is Said to Be a Prisoner.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Senor de la Barra the Mexican ambassador, received tonight the following dispatch from Enrique Creel, Mexican minister of foreign affairs.

"General Navarros forces today defeated the seditionists at Cerro Prieto in Chihuahua. Sixty were killed and many more are wounded. The seditionists are in flight and the federal troops are pursuing them."

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 13.—Mexican Consul Antonio V. Lomeli today received confirmation of yesterday's reported battle between federal troops and insurrectos at Cerro Prieto, four leagues south of Pedernales. Sixty insurrectos were killed and many more were wounded, according to the same reports. The consul's information is to the effect that the insurrectos were completely routed and are being pursued into the mountains by federal troops. General Prieto, commander of the insurrectos is said to be a prisoner.

LAREDO, Tex., Dec. 13. Seventy Mexican revolutionists were killed and a small number wounded in a battle this afternoon with federal troops in Cerro Prieto, state of Chihuahua, according to a telegram received tonight by Miguel Diebold, Mexican consul stationed at Nuevo Laredo from Enrique Creel, Mexican minister of foreign relations. The federals are said to have lost 14 men, including two officers.

Cerro Prieto is a station on the Mexican Northeastern railroad.

Commenting on the situation, Colonel Diebold says:

"For some time a small body of alleged revolutionists have been operating in the Chihuahua district. They have caused the government no alarm, however, and todays advices received from an official source in the capital in all probability means the government has suppressed the roving bands that have been causing minor disturbances."

FIRST DAY OF POULTRY SHOW BIG SUCCESS.

Children's Day Draws Crowd. Awards Made in Many Important Classes.

Yesterday's opening day of the poultry show, which has come to be an annual event in Colorado Springs, was inaugurated in a manner that was highly gratifying to the committees in charge.

A crowd nearly three times as large as that which attended the opening of last years exhibition was in attendance yesterday, and from early in the morning until late in the evening there was a passing throng of men, women and children that quite filled the old Postoffice building, where the show is being held.

All the aristocrats of the feathered family from the neat and nifty Bantams to the large and lumbering Cochins were on dress parade. In fact, everybody that amounts to anything in the chicken category is at the show, and will remain on exhibition during the week.

Altogether there are 645 entries, and the show is bigger and better in every way than any that has been given before. Yesterday was children's day and this innovation on the part of the management proved one of the biggest successes. Nearly 800 schoolboys and girls availed themselves of the opportunity to attend the poultry exhibit as the guests of those in charge and it was a noisy and jolly crowd that gathered inside and outside of the building throughout the day.

Judge D T Helmlich of Jacksonville, Ill. has a big assignment on his hands in inspecting and grading the long list of entries, and the scoring is already under way, so that all awards may be known by Saturday night.

In addition to the many blue-bloods of the poultry family on exhibition, there are also a few ducks, geese, Belgian hares, and one Angora cat. Outside of the awards in the various classes, interest also centers in the egg-laying contest. The hens entered in this race are grouped in the center of the building and are the objects of much attention.

The awards made yesterday follow:

C. S. AUTO CLUB FAVORS MERGER

PASSES RESOLUTION TO THAT EFFECT.

Authorizes President L. E. Curtis to Confer With Committees From Other Bodies.

Another civic organization of importance to become imbued with the spirit of consolidation is the Colorado Springs Automobile club which yesterday afternoon, through its executive committee passed a resolution favoring the proposed merger and authorizing President Leonard E. Curtis to meet with the other committees. Members of the club and the officers are practically a unit in believing that the various civic organizations should merge, reserving the right to see that their individual interests do not suffer thereby.

"The club favors the proposed merger," said Mr Curtis yesterday, "and we shall undoubtedly enter it, but we shall ask, as all the component organizations will rightly ask, with regard to their interests, that some method be devised by which matters now pertaining only to the Automobile club will be properly taken care of in the new organization."

The Automobile club has taken an active interest in the civic good of Colorado Springs. It has been for good roads, for general civic improvements, for the proper enforcement of the ordinances and for the protection of its members against unjust encroachment.

This medal was designed by Mrs. Scott, wife of the leader of the British South Polar expeditions.

Captain Peary also deposited in the National museum the flag of his college fraternity, presented to him by his brothers of the Delta Kappa Epsilon, and the peace flag given him by the society of the Daughters of the American Revolution. He carried both of these with him to the North pole.

ROOSEVELT AT BANQUET, DRINKS TO HEALTH OF TAFT AND WHITE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 13.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt as the guest of the chamber of commerce at its annual banquet tonight, made his first public address since the recent elections.

The banquet had more than ordinary significance through the presence of Mr. Roosevelt, who recently was in controversy with Judge Simeon E. Baldwin, who as governor elect had been invited to attend.

Judge Baldwin was not present and the place assigned to him at the guest's table bore mute evidence of his absence.

Colonel Roosevelt's coming had given rise to speculation as to whether Judge Baldwin would serve papers in a suit he will file while the former was in the state. At Judge Baldwin's office it was said there was no reason to believe any such step would be taken.

It was noticeable that Governor Weeks was not present at the banquet to represent the state nor was any member of the congressional delegation present but their absence was due to other engagements.

The dinner was served in the dining hall of Yale university, known as the commons.

At the table with Colonel Roosevelt were Colonel I. M. Ullman, president of the chamber of commerce, Charles H. Julin, secretary of the chamber, President Hadley and Secretary Anson Phelps Stokes of Yale, Chief Justice Frank B. Roll, of the state supreme court, Mayor Rice of New Haven, ex-Governor Woodruff and former Governor Lounsbury.

Colonel Roosevelt was greeted with cheers which lasted fully a minute when he rose to speak.

"It seems to me that nothing could be a better augury of the future of this country," he said, "than that a Republican President should appoint a former Confederate of opposite political faith, chief justice of the United States supreme court and receive the unanimous applause of his countrymen. With the permission of your president, I shall propose two toasts, first, to President Taft and second to that learned jurist, Chief Justice White."

After the toasts had been drunk, Colonel Roosevelt said he was glad to say in New Haven "Precisely what he had said to many former gatherings in the west."

Colonel Roosevelt said that during the last half of the last century people had concerned themselves with the accumulation of material well-being believing that its distribution would take care of itself.

Not an Anarchist, He Says.

"Bodies like this chamber of commerce," said the colonel, "have been industriously taught to regard me as a kind of modified anarchist. As a matter of fact, I think that if you will read what I have said and not what certain representatives of the press have

HIGHWAYS FROM COAST TO COAST WANTED.

Colorado Conservation Commission Approves Plan of John Brisben Walker.

DENVER, Dec. 13.—Cement highways from the Atlantic to the Pacific were advocated in a plan presented today to the Colorado conservation commission by John Brisben Walker. The commission unanimously adopted a resolution approving Mr. Walker's plan, after it had been explained by Director Scott Patterson. The resolution asks the governors of the 17 states more immediately interested to appropriate [illegible] to take action.

Mr. Walker declared that cost of transportation of passengers and freight on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts would be cut in half if the federal government and states to be traversed will construct scientifically-built highways as follows:

From Denver to the Mississippi at St. Louis.

From Denver to the great lakes at Chicago.

From Denver to the gulf at Galveston.

From Denver to the Pacific coast at Seattle.

From Denver to the Pacific ocean at San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Mr. Walker presented an elaborate array of figures and maps to prove that the rates for haulage over such highways would be only 50 per cent of the existing railway rates.

He offers to pay the government one-half of the cost of the highways and the states traversed the remainder.

KING TO GIVE PERSONAL AID TO FLOOD SUFFERERS

ROME, Dec. 13.—So serious have the floods become, particularly in the northern part of Italy, through the increased rains, that the king has expressed his intention to visit the inundated districts and thereby give encouragement to the inhabitants. Grave damage is reported from all quarters.

Many villages are practically isolated and provisions are being carried to the people by boats.

Hundreds of soldiers and private citizens are engaged in the work of aiding the sufferers.

TWO KILLED; FIVE INJURED

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 13.—John Ashe and Gus Dale were killed outright and five others were injured in the workings of the Northwestern Improvement company's mine at Ravensdale as a result of an explosion of gas in No. 4 West Gangway at noon today. Fire which had smoldered in older workings of the mine had eaten through into the gangway.

EXPECTS TO RAISE $2,550,000 FOR PUBLIC HIGHWAYS

DENVER, Dec. 13.—The Colorado state highway commission expects to raise a fund of $2,550,000 for road building in the state during the next two years. Frank Tully, member of the commission, has returned from a tour of several counties and reports the plan entirely feasible.

"We expect to secure enough money," said Mr. Tully this morning, "to place Colorado first in the list of road building states and second only to Switzerland. We believe the legislature will be favorable to our plan, because we have the backing of public spirited organizations in every part of the state.

"The work of the board since its inception this year has been a revelation to county officials everywhere. There is now in the internal improvement fund of the state a fund of $350,000 contributed by the federal government from the sale of public lands. The last legislature appropriated $350,000 for public buildings. This is a loan which the next legislature will not have to carry. We shall ask the legislature to contribute $500,000 to the state funds on condition that the counties interested contribute twice that sum.

"We expect to secure $1,500,000 from the counties all to be placed in charge of the state highway commission."

HONDURAN GUARDS AT HOMES OF AMERICANS

PUERTO CORTEZ, Honduras, Dec. 8, via New Orleans, Dec. 13.—A guard is placed every night around the hotel here where foreign visitors and business men stay. Ostensibly this is for their protection but the real object is to watch the action of Americans.

The government fears a revolution and suspects that American soldiers of fortune may be masked behind every Yankee passport. Business conditions are undisturbed. The Honduran gunboat La Tumba, in the harbor, keeps steam up day and night. She is equipped with Krupp guns of small caliber and expects to have expert gunners aboard.

SEEKS TO CLOSE CEMENT PLANTS IN THE COUNTRY

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—A movement to stop all cement manufacturing on Sunday and to give the 30,000 employes a day's rest, was launched today at a meeting of the American Portland Cement Manufacturers association, when W. M. Mallory, one of the officials, announced that Thomas A. Edison had successfully demonstrated that cement kilns were not affected by a day's shut down when properly cared for.

He said the Edison plant is now closing down Sundays and that since Sunday operations have started the daily tonnage output has [illegible]

LIVELY DEBATE WHEN TARIFF COMES UP

Cummins, Aldrich, Beveridge and Hale Engage in Senate Discussion.

CUMMINS' PLAN IS TABLED

Wanted to Amend Rules to Permit Revision by Schedule—Other Business.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Discussion of the tariff in the senate today precipitated a lively debate in which Senators Cummins, Aldrich, Beveridge and Hale were the principal participants. It was occasioned by Senator Cummins speaking to his resolution to amend the rules of the Senate and House so as to permit revision of the tariff schedule by schedule, and was ended when on motion of Senator Hale, the resolution was tabled. The Senate confirmed a long list of recess appointments.

In the House the pension appropriation bill, carrying $157,614,000, was passed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The Senate today listened to the first tariff debate of the session and while the discussion was largely academic it served to develop the important fact that Messrs. Lodge and Aldrich are willing to join in the piecemeal revision of the tariff.

The subject came up on a motion to refer to the committee on rules the Cummins joint resolution providing for the limitation of the power to amend bills looking to the modification of paragraphs and schedules of the Payne-Aldrich bill.

Was Running Debate.

Mr. Cummins [illegible] of his amendment but he was not [illegible] to such an extent that the discussion took [illegible] of the general tariff debate. It was in the course of the discussion that Messrs. Lodge and Aldrich found [illegible] to present their respective views.

Mr. Aldrich favored amendments but he said he would prefer taking up the [illegible] Cummins rather than by [illegible] Beveridge in its opposition to the Iowa senator's method of proceeding which contemplates the iteration of the rules of both the House and Senate by joint resolution. Senator Hale, who opposed the amendment did not participate in the debate. It is expected he will take ground antagonistic to the Cummins program.

Much attention was given today to the right of the Senate to interfere in any way in the formation of House rules and of the Senate to amend revenue bills which, under the constitution, must originate in the House. Mr. Aldrich flatly announced his opposition to any course that would circumscribe the House, and Mr. Cummins interpreted this remark as a declaration in support of the right of the Democratic House of the next Congress to outline its policy without interference. The Iowa senator said he desired to keep politics out of the question.

Criticises Senate Practice.

Mr. Cummins in the course of his remarks, animadverted severely upon the Senate practice of building up bills to its own liking on measures supplied by the House. Mr. Aldrich did not follow him in this contention.

PRESIDENT'S DESIRE TO APPOINT NEGRO OPPOSED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—President Taft's inclination to appoint William B. Lewis, a negro lawyer of Boston, an assistant attorney general, is meeting with much opposition. Booker T. Washington called on Attorney General Wickersham today to urge it, and Speaker Cannon called to oppose it. Speaker Cannon's opposition, however, is not based on racial grounds but on reasons of economy.

It is known that the place President Taft had in mind for Lewis was that of assistant attorney general in charge of the Indian depredation cases. John D. Thompson of Danville, Ill., Speaker Cannon's home town, now holds that place and intends to resign as soon as his work is finished.

ROOSEVELT AT BANQUET

said that I have said, you will see that I have tried to preach only the doctrines on which this republic was founded.

"I am a radical, but I am a radical who most earnestly desires to see a radical program carried out by conservatives. I wish to see great industrial reforms carried out, not by the men who will profit by them, but by the men who lose by them; by just such men as you are around me. I believe most emphatically in the progress which shall be sane."

Regulate Corporations.

Colonel Roosevelt said he wished to see the hand of the state and the nation placed on the great corporations to regulate them.

"The rights of man must be paramount in a republic, such as ours," he added.

The colonel urged the passage of legislation to benefit labor. It was his criticism of former Judge Baldwin's attitude toward such legislation which led to their controversy.

In explaining his idea of the "square deal," Colonel Roosevelt said

"I don't want the prize in the race to go to the man who is not fast enough to win it. I want them to start even."

Equal opportunity, he said, represented the idea upon which the republic was founded.

Respect Rights of Both.

"I care for the fact," he continued, "and not in the least for the form. You hear a good deal of national rights and of state rights. I am for both."

He explained this by saying that he was for national rights where they would best serve the welfare of the people and for state rights where their exercise was most beneficial.

Colonel Roosevelt said corporations should be treated with an exact measure of justice.

"Your grocer must make a profit or he won't continue to sell groceries," he explained, "but if you pay his bills without examining them you do not show that you have a soft heart. You show that you have a soft head."

The government, he said, should deal with corporations on the same basis as a man deals with his grocer, in giving and exacting justice.

Must Solve Questions Wisely.

The colonel said there had been a good deal of loose talk about proposed changes in forms of government. The effort to get more complete control over the agencies of interstate commerce for the federal government represents, he said, not an innovation which was not contemplated by the constitution, but a realization of the purposes of the constitution. "A century and a quarter ago no such legislation was needed," he said. "Now it was imperatively needed.

"The forces striving for social and economic betterment are certain to find an outlet," he said. "The question is, will it go forward wisely?

"Our fathers in this country have solved many great questions. To us in this generation have come other great questions. It rests with men like you to determine whether they shall be solved wisely and soon, or when they are solved whether they shall bring with the great untold evil to the country."

OLYMPIA, Wash., Dec. 13. Sitting in the jury box without removing their hats, five prominent Olympia women listened all afternoon and until late tonight to the testimony and the arguments of the lawyers who are trying the case of A. Koch, a milkman against Fouls and Canfield street contractors. Koch complains that a blast set off by the contractors caused his team to run away and do damage to the extent of $10.65.

Six women were called but Mrs. E. B. Graves, president of the Humane society sent a physician's certificate stating she was ill. The court excused her, and, by stipulation, the other five were selected to try the case. The jurors are: Miss Jean McLeod, stenographer to Governor M. E. Lay, Miss Bernice Sapp, supreme court stenographer; Mrs. J. W. Mowell, wife of a prominent physician, Mrs. Frank Blakslee, wife of the Democratic candidate for the legislature last November, and the Rev. Genevieve Lake, one of the few ordained female ministers in Washington.

With the exception of Mrs. Graves, the court refused to excuse any of the women called, although each offered an excuse varying from not being a taxpayer or a resident of Olympia to the simple "just because" of a woman. The afternoon and night sessions of the court were both crowded by a curious throng of onlookers who laughed every time there was the slightest excuse and kept the court continually calling for order.

BOSTON, Dec. 13.—The will of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, late head of the Christian Science church, will be filed for probate at Concord, N. H., tomorrow, by Gen. Frank S. Streetor. This announcement was made by Alfred L. Farlow of the publication committee of the church. Mr. Farlow also said the provisions of the will would be made public at once.

UNANIMOUS FOR

the Chamber of Commerce is made up of E. W. Giddings, chairman; Irving Howbert, S. D. McCracken, D. V. Donaldson and Thomas Fisher. The committee of the Merchants association is composed of F. S. Tucker, O. E. Hemenway, F. F. Wulff, J. G. Dern and John Lennox. President Leonard E. Curtis of the Automobile club was yesterday afternoon named to represent that organization. The representatives from these organizations, together with such others as may be sent from other civic bodies, will soon meet to consider ways and means of effecting the consolidation, which all agree is of such prime importance to the community.

Touches on Vital Matters.

The annual report of President Kent, besides being a strong plea for the merger, touched upon several matters of vital interest, both to the Real Estate exchange and the community in general. Mr. Kent suggested that the problem of heavy teaming traffic can be obviated by the use of one alley for all such teams going in one direction, and another alley for all teams going in the other direction. In this way, the streets would be saved the present costly wear and tear.

He also advocated immediate action looking toward the erection of an auditorium or casino, which could be used for the entertainment of visitors and tourists, both summer and winter. The college as an educational institution of immense advantage to Colorado Springs, both intellectually and materially, and the Dry Farming congress as a potent means for the development of this city and the surrounding country, were also commented upon.

Several matters of minor importance were also acted upon at the meeting.

President Kent's address in full, follows:

Kent's Address.

It is customary at these annual meetings to review the work of the year that we have done for ourselves, or in conjunction with other bodies, for the good of the community. We might say, as did Aeneas to Queen Dido, "You desire me to relate, O Queen, those events which I myself saw and of which I was part," but practically little is accomplished by patting ourselves on the back and recounting those exploits which we flatter ourselves we have helped accomplish. Retrospection is useful chiefly as a stimulus or guide to renewed effort. The prospective rather than retrospective view is the more helpful one in developing a community. In anticipation of the proposed reorganization of the commercial bodies and pending a definite idea of its scope and plan of activity, we hesitate to make any suggestions for future civic activity. But as neither reforms or revolutions are born in a day and unfortunately much talk and agitation seems necessary to get anything started, we suggest the following without any claim to newness or originality:

Safeguard Conditions.

Our long suit has always been those scenic and climatic conditions, which have made us chiefly a pleasure and health resort. As our large business blocks and residences and business enterprises were built up by health seekers in our midst, it behooves us above all else to safeguard those conditions, which led to those results. Our best asset, pure air, will rapidly become a diminishing one, unless radical steps are taken in time to abate the dust and smoke which increase with the increasing population. We commend the Mayor's suggestion to have all the main thoroughfares, at least north and south parked, graded, graveled and perhaps oiled to beautify them and at the same time reduce the dust area. His proposal to charge the cost to abutting property owners seems to us an equitable and not burdensome one, since the payment can be spread over ten years if desired, during which time the benefits can be enjoyed and cost of maintenance reduced. Existing ordinances regarding smoke should be rigidly enforced and probably new ones enacted, to which matter we trust the new commercial body will give early attention. We strongly advocate certain alleys, one for going north and one for going south, being put into suitable condition to withstand loaded coal wagons and other heavy traffic and that such traffic be restricted to them. It is manifestly cheaper and better to keep narrow alleys in condition for such use, than to permit heavy wagons to wander at will over our broad streets, making it impossible to keep them in even fair condition

A Summer Pleasure Resort.

In years past we were chiefly a winter health resort. We seem now to have become more a summer pleasure resort. This is emphasized to us real estate men, because there used to be a limited number of houses for rent in winter and few inquiries in summer, whereas now we with difficulty supply the summer demand and would hesitate to state the number of medium and large houses on our rent lists for the winter season. Something is necessary to more nearly equalize business through the year and to develop additional attractions for winter entertainment. To this end we hope for some materialization of the combined auditorium and casino, providing during the winter season especially a place for music, dancing and other entertainment.

The proposed auditorium for large gatherings could easily be constructed in a manner to satisfy in some measure the purposes of a casino—a suitable place for concerts as often as experience developed practicable and an opportunity for dancing for young people under reasonable supervision. Dancing is a natural and fascinating diversion for the young and, when properly conducted, a wholesome and healthful outlet for youthful spirit. Such spirit is bound to find an outlet somewhere, better far under rational restriction than where license abounds. Admission to such public dances could be provided by cards obtained in the same manner as cards to the public library, on the recommendation of responsible citizens.

Opportunity is Now.

Since writing the above I have read a report which I made to the Exchange several years ago, and from which it may not be amiss to quote verbatim one paragraph, as the needs there enumerated have become even more apparent with passing time.

"We have a golden opportunity, if we will but grasp it, to develop the finest educational center and city of homes combined with the greatest health and pleasure resort on the continent. Our scenery and climate are assured, and each year's visitors make cumulative advertising. But our visitors are not going to be content with inhaling our pure and exhilarating air or spending all their time in the mountain canons. We must see to it that our city itself shall be made and kept as neat, attractive and beautiful as possible. Encourage clean streets, alleys and vacant lots, well-kept lawns, parks, and planting of trees and shrubbery. We must encourage the paving of downtown streets and the extension of parked districts and uniform sidewalks everywhere. We should provide more entertainment for our visitors, especially in winter. More effort should be devoted to our development as a winter resort. We ought to have within the city a well-located casino. It should be beautiful in itself and perfectly adapted to the uses of such a building, with large and commodious piazzas and sun parlors sheltered from the winds, as a sort of refuge for our winter visitors on occasional windy and dusty days. In such a building could be given band concerts on rainy afternoons and evenings in summer, and more especially in winter when there is the greater need of providing music and other entertainment."

College Should Be Boosted.

I am continually surprised to learn the inadequate comprehension which exists in the minds of many of our merchants regarding our college. That institution which elevates the moral and intellectual tone of the community is, as has been said, our greatest financial asset. The faculty and students distribute annually more than $300,000 in our midst. Some of our merchants labor under the impression that an enlarged enrollment of students means financial prosperity, whereas because of small tuition fees any new student is an added financial burden to the institution, while adding to the business of the town. All have to be housed, fed and clothed. So we build up the town by building up the college and for no higher than for selfish motives should back the college so far as we are able, both by word and by deed.

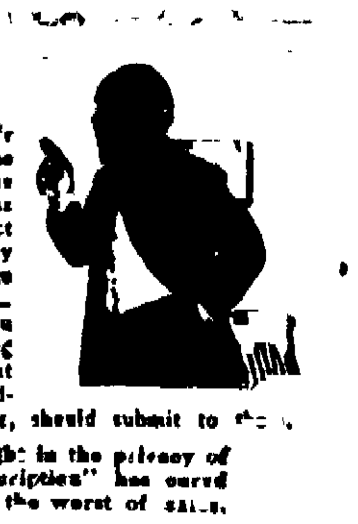

We all pledge our active support to the International Dry Farming convention to be held here next fall. It should result in an incalculable benefit to our community and the development of the thousands of so-called arid acres to the east of us into productive agricultural territory tributary to our city. We could have nothing better or more stable to add to our present resources.

Progress is Keynote.

In view of the proposal that some of the civic and commercial bodies of the city cease to exist, in order that a larger and stronger organization may come into being, some of us may feel a tinge of the spirit of the Roman gladiators on entering the arena, "We, who are about to die, salute you." We should rather feel that we are about to enter a new sphere of existence and to participate in a larger and broader field of activity and usefulness.

Our organizations need not feel that they have lived an entirely useless existence or that they have wholly failed of accomplishment because, in harmony with the progressive spirit of the times, they give way to larger plans and purposes. Progress is the keynote to modern success and as much greater gain can be expected from a combination of organizations as from a single organization over individual effort. Such a body as contemplated, comprising every commercial activity of the city with its large and representative membership, financial backing, experienced officers and wideawake, aggressive and progressive advisory committee would have a potency, both at home and abroad impossible for our several small bodies. The petitions of such a representative body would be almost mandatory in effect upon a city council or board of county commissioners and its commendation or criticism, "The voice of the people, the voice of God."

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.—take the advice received and be well.

LECTURES ARRANGED FOR BUILDING FUND

The moving, remodeling and repairing of the old house formerly located on the corner of Vermijo and Nevada avenues has just been completed by the building committee of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, and is now occupied as the parsonage by the pastor, the Rev. W. E. Bennett. The building has been placed on the rear of the lot, thus leaving this corner for the building of a new church, which the congregation is desirous of having in the near future. The brotherhood of the church is a strong factor in the advance movement, and it now has secured one of the best men on the lecture platform to deliver a cameragraph entertainment for the benefit of the building improvement fund. This lecture, by J. A. Blosser, B. C., of Snohomish, Wash., will be given in the First Methodist church on Thursday evening of this week at 8 o'clock, sharp.

The brotherhood has also secured the Rev. J. F. Findley, pastor of the Central Christian church, Pueblo, to deliver his lecture on the Passion Play of Oberammergau, on the evening of December 26, at St. Paul's church.

E. G. CORAY GETS GOOD JOB FROM M. A. LEDDY

State House Buffoonery, Alias Quarrel, Continues Pearce and Kenehan at Swords' Points.

M. A. Leddy of Manitou, state auditor-elect, has selected E. G. Coray of this city to have charge of the building and loan department of his office, according to a report in Denver last night. Coray was formerly an employe of Secretary of State Pearce and, it is said, is a close adviser of Labor Commissioner Brake.

The report further says that Rhoady Kenehan, outgoing auditor and incoming treasurer, has been combined against, and that the combination includes the Governor.

The report says that there has been no open rupture between the chief executive and the "fighting auditor," but they have not found it easy to agree, and the Governor, the story goes, has formed an alliance with Secretary of State Pearce and Auditor-elect Leddy to control the affairs of the new administration.

The quarrel between Pearce and Kenehan continues. Pearce yesterday refused to recognize a subpoena issued by Public Examiner J. B. Foley of Auditor Kenehan's office, to appear at the office of the auditor with his books for investigation. Asked what he would do in the matter, Auditor Kenehan said he had not outlined his plans.

BOYS MEET AND FORM THE "FIRESIDE CLUB"

The Fireside club, a society for boys between the ages of 12 and 15 years, was organized last night at the home of Milton Strong, 101 South Wahsatch avenue. The following officers were elected: President, Robert Goede; vice president, Milton Strong; treasurer, Ernest Howard; secretary, Guy Parker, and chairman, Everett Thompson.

The club is organized to have entertainments, "club evenings," mothers' nights and general good times at the homes of different members. The membership is limited to 12. It is planned to have two meetings a week, the first one being held next Saturday night.

The club already has a good library and will shortly set about finding club quarters.

STUDENTS ON THE JOB

Charles E. Parsons, son of Dean and Mrs. E. S. Parsons of this city, and who is attending Amherst college, saved himself and about 200 schoolmates from a long walk last Saturday, when he acted as motorman on a trolley line near Boston. A strike on the line was about to prevent the college people from attending a hockey game, and young Parsons, with several other college men, took the cars and maintained a schedule to the hockey rink.

TO BUILD HANDSOME HOME

A. M. Lemercier of 1625 Wood avenue, who has been spending the last two years in the city for his health, has purchased a lot on the corner of Caramillo street and Alamosa avenue, where he will build a handsome residence in the near future. The entire cost of house and lot will be $10,000. Mr. Lemercier was formerly manager for Colgate and Company of New York, the largest wholesale drug concern in the world.

LIVELY DEBATE

"You are sailing into a very broad sea," he remarked.

"Well, if I find myself in a port where my vessel is infected with some horrible contagion, I prefer the open water," responded Mr Cummins.

"In that event," blandly replied the senator from Rhode Island, "the senator is liable to remain in the ocean for a long time."

As the Iowa senator proceeded to develop his opposition to senatorial amendments to tariff bills, he was antagonized by Mr. Aldrich who went so far as to declare the doctrine "revolutionary."

"It absolutely robs the states of their right of equal representation," he declared.

Mr Cummins contended that until the rules of the two houses were amended there would be no possibility of amending the tariff, with the consequence that it must remain as it is until "the people in their indignation and wrath rise up and compel a general revision."

Philippine Investigation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The Philippine friar land transactions were again under investigation by the House committee on insular affairs today. Representative Martin of Colorado continued his statement, elaborating the charges against the manner in which these estates had been handled by the Philippine government.

Capt. E. H. Sleeper, director of lands of the Philippine government, testified regarding the transactions. He said that when E. L. Poole, who has figured in Mr. Martin's charges, called upon him, he declared that he was representing the sugar syndicate, but did not indicate for whom he was acting in seeking a deed to friar lands.

He took up in detail Mr Martin's charges, but his testimony was along the line of the special report of the investigation sent to Congress by Secretary Dickinson.

A STUBBORN CINDERELLA IS A CHARMING CREATURE

By J. R. H.

"A Stubborn Cinderella," one of the best of all the Adams-Hough-Howard Chicago musical comedy successes, was presented at the Opera House last night for the third time in this city. Charles Goettler a new name among producers but an old one among managers, has furnished a production for this second road tour which is better than that of any Chicago musical play that has visited Colorado Springs this season. The type of entertainment which Adams, Hough and Howard turn out requires more of its actors than most amusement of this sort. As a rule producers send these successes of the western metropolis on the road with inferior companies and inadequate equipment. Goettler has retained for this season's company the best of last year's organization, to which he has added some excellent new material.

"A Stubborn Cinderella" contains some songs which have not been sung in every other Adams-Hough-Howard piece, which is generally the case with all of Howard's compositions. Furthermore this attraction has some good specialties and action and comedy which the majority of this style of productions lacks. E. Colt Albertson, the leading comedian, is a natural comedian, a rare find in modern musical comedy. He scores his laughs by legitimate methods. Hazel Kirke, the prima donna who plays the title role, is pretty, sings well and has much magnetism. Lillian Goldsmith is dainty and pleasing. Neal Burns and Bobbie Wagner deserve more than passing mention. Edwin Burns, should he cease to overdraw his character, would make more success with a rather promising role.

The chorus is well costumed. The changes are frequent and designed for the general effect. The chorus dances and sings with life and energy. The whole production is snappy throughout. There is scarcely a dull moment in the entertainment.

C. S. CHAPTER, R. A. M., HOLD ANNUAL ELECTION

At its annual meeting last night Colorado Springs chapter No. 6, Royal Arch Masons, elected the following for the ensuing year:

DIRECT LEGISLATION LEAGUE HOLDS MEETING TOMORROW

A meeting of those interested in the work of the Direct Legislation league will be held tomorrow evening in the offices of Dr. Sinton, Exchange bank building. All those interested in the movement are requested to attend tomorrow night's session.

News of Local Courts

Arguments in the suit of W. D. Lombard to compel Adolph Fehringer, administrator of the estate of Otto Fehringer, to execute a deed transferring certain property in Ivywild to the plaintiff, were continued before Judge Sheafor in the district court yesterday. Motion for a nonsuit has been denied and the case will be continued today. It is claimed that Fehringer made an oral agreement with Lombard to give him property in Ivywild in settlement for legal services.

Deputy Sheriff Compton left yesterday for Indianapolis, where Lester Kahn is under arrest, charged with cashing a $50 forged check at the Antlers hotel here last summer. Kahn gave himself up to the police a few days ago, saying that he was wanted in Colorado Springs and Winnipeg, for forgery.

Forrest Woodside filed a report in the district court yesterday to the effect that he sold at public sale certain real estate property in Colorado Springs to Ada M. Duncan, for $515. Woodside was appointed a commissioner by the court to sell the property.

Direct informations, charging the illegal sale of liquor, were sworn out in the district court yesterday by the district attorney's office. Charges are made against H. F. Norton, Adolph Fehringer, H. H. Robbins (two counts), W. H. Holmes, G. J. Gillaspy and E. N. Harrison. Bonds were fixed at $500 each. Gillaspy and Robbins have been convicted on similar charges, and convictions in the present cases will mean jail sentences.

Because of the absence from the city of Attorney R. L. Chambers, representing William Payne, who was last week found guilty of murdering his wife on the evening of November 18, District Judge Sheafor has granted an additional five days in which to file a motion for a new trial. Payne was found guilty of murder in the second degree.

The evidence gathered by the police in their investigation of the Gillaspy drug store, on West Huerfano street, has been turned over to the district attorney's office. It is alleged that a minor purchased a pint bottle of beer at the store.

Dewey Burk and James Hatfield, runaways from the State Home for Dependent and Neglected Children, Denver, were taken back to the institution last evening by State Humane Officer W. B. Rankin. The lads were picked up in Colorado Springs Monday afternoon by Humane Officer Neff. The youths, who are 12 and 13 years old, respectively, after escaping from the home, spent several days traveling about the country with a gang of Mexicans.

GOVERNMENT SEEKS TO RECOVER $25,000

DENVER, Dec. 13.—The United States government today brought suit in the federal court against the Gilson Asphaltum company, a New Jersey corporation, to recover coal lands valued at $25,000 situated near Glenwood Springs. The government asks that patents issued on the lands be declared void and title revert to the government, alleging that the company conspired with certain individuals to obtain ownership fraudulently.

29 ERRORS ALLEGED IN MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

DENVER, Dec. 13.—A motion for a new trial for Genkyo Mitsunaga, the Japanese youth convicted of murder in the first degree on charge of having killed Mrs. Katharine Wilson last spring, was filed this afternoon in the west side court by Attorney O. N. Hilton, the lawyer for the defense.

Mr. Hilton alleges 29 errors of the court as reasons for the granting of a new trial for Mitsunaga.

RANCHMAN BACK OF IRRIGATION SCHEME

An irrigation scheme which is expected to supply 35,000 acres in the southern part of El Paso county and the northern part of Pueblo, is being pushed by F. C. Thornton of Wigwam, a prominent ranchman. The proposition is to cost in the neighborhood of $[illegible],000, and the water is to be taken from the Fountain creek.

MUCH SNOW AT MORAINE

While the total precipitation yesterday in Colorado Springs was .06 of an inch and the mean temperature was 32 degrees, Lake Moraine was enjoying a snow storm of good size, nearly a foot having fallen up to 7 o'clock last night, and the thermometer hovering around the zero mark. Yesterday's embryo snow storm here for a time promised to do Christmas service, but the sun, which shone 41 per cent of the day, spoiled the scene. The prediction for today is fair.

NO REGULAR VACATION

The Colorado School for the Deaf and Blind will have no regular holiday vacation this year, because the school opened so late in the fall. Christmas and New Years day will be observed, however.

TO ESTABLISH HOME FOR AGED COLORED PASTORS

Old Deaconess Hospital May Be Given to A. M. E. Church as Result Gen. Palmer's Promise.

Negotiations are under way by which it is expected that officials in the A. M. E. church will secure the old Deaconess hospital building east of St. Francis hospital, as a home for aged colored pastors. If the transaction is carried out along lines mapped out at present, the Bethel hospital will secure a half block of ground to the east and adjoining its present site on East Boulder street.

Several years ago, it is said, the late Gen. W. J. Palmer agreed to donate the ground for the proposed home. While the land was never deeded, the colored people took the promise as final and made their plans accordingly. The Bethel hospital desires another half block to add to its site and is willing to give its old building in trade for a half block adjoining its new building. The matter has been taken up with George A. Krause, resident executor of the Palmer estate, who is willing to carry out the promise made by General Palmer. The colored people are willing to give the site wanted by the Deaconess hospital in exchange for the old site and its building, which is also agreeable to the hospital officials.

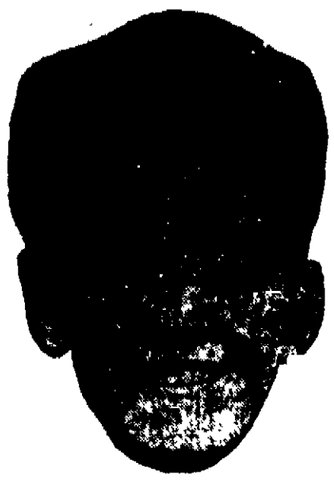

A slight hitch has developed, however, because two lots in the block in question have been sold to private individuals by the Colorado Springs company. An effort is now being made by the latter concern to give the owners an equivalent in property located elsewhere.

W. U. GIVES NEW SERVICE

The Western Union Telegraph company today announces another innovation in telegraphic service, called the "special ocean mail service," designed to save time in foreign correspondence. The Western Union has arranged for the use of its night letter and other telegraphic service in connection with outgoing mails so that three or four days' time may be saved. Its New York office will receive telegrams from any part of the country destined to European addresses and forward them in a sealed specially addressed envelope by the first outgoing Atlantic steamship mail. The same plan will be followed in San Francisco, Seattle and Vancouver for Transpacific mails. This will enable correspondence to be dispatched from any part of the United States for an ocean mail within a few hours of sailing time. The only charge in addition to the usual telegraphic tolls to New York or other points will be five cents for postage.

TYPHOID AND INJURY KILL HENRY RATHBUN

Young Druggist Dies at Deaconess Hospital—Funeral From Elks Home This Afternoon.

Following a short illness from typhoid fever, during which time his condition was made worse by an accident, in which he suffered a compound fracture of the left leg, Henry G. Rathbun, one of the proprietors of the May-Rathbun Drug store, formerly known as the Opera House pharmacy, died at 3:15 o'clock yesterday morning at the Deaconess hospital. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Elks home, Cascade avenue and Bijou street. He was a member of Colorado Springs lodge No. 309, B. P. O. E. The officiating clergyman and the pallbearers will be chosen this morning. Interment will be at Evergreen cemetery, beside the body of Mr. Rathbun's mother, who died in this city about six years ago.

Mr. Rathbun was one of the well-known younger business men of the city. He was 26 years old and for five of the eight years of his residence here, was associated with the D. Y. Butcher Drug company. A few months ago he left this company, going into business with his cousin, Lester May, of Texas, in the management of the pharmacy. Besides his cousin, he is survived by his father, O. Y. Rathbun, of Dallas, Tex.; Ralph Rathbun, a brother living here, and several other brothers and sisters living in Texas.

Mr. Rathbun was sent to the hospital over a week ago suffering with typhoid fever. He was in a delirious condition most of the time. During a fit of delirium early last Saturday morning, he jumped from his bed, knocked down the nurse who was watching him, and ran to a second story balcony, from which he jumped to the ground. In so doing he suffered a compound fracture of the left leg. As he was almost continually in a delirious condition, it was next to impossible to restrain him during his illness.

MINERVA SOCIETY HOLDS ANNUAL SOCIAL FUNCTION

The annual social function of the Minerva society of Colorado College was given last evening at the Acacia hotel. Miss Vesta Tucker, president, received the guests, assisted by Mrs. William F. Slocum, Mrs. Edward S. Parsons and Mrs. Florian Cajori. About 70 were in attendance, and by couples they progressed from table to table between the courses served at the banquet. The decorations were in the Minerva colors, light blue and white.

TO MEET TODAY

A meeting of the executive committee of the Winter Night club will be held today, at which matters in connection with the coming speech of Munson Havens of the Cleveland chamber of commerce will be taken up. While it is not definitely known what will be done, it is probable that the committee will decide to issue invitations up to the amount of the seating capacity of the Antlers dining room. The room seats 300 comfortably.

CRUM TO BE TRIED TODAY

Alex. E. J. Whitney of Denver, formerly state boiler inspector, and his assistant, George A. Crum of this city, are to be tried in the west side court, Denver today, on a charge of embezzling state funds. Whitney was arrested last February and released under $3,000 bond, while Crum's arrest occurred shortly afterward. Both men pleaded not guilty at their preliminary hearing.

IRA W. GOWIN AND MISS PEARL HARTSEL MARRIED

Ira W. Gowin of Ramah, and Miss Pearl May Hartsel, of Kevsor, were married yesterday afternoon at the parsonage of the Church of the United Brethren in Christ, by the Rev. Henry Irving Kohler, pastor of the church.

The young couple will make their home on their ranch near Ramah.

"SHOP EARLY!" HERE ARE SOME REASONS WHY

That their patrons this year are realizing more than ever before the value of doing Christmas shopping early is the opinion of Colorado Springs merchants, who have been watching closely to see if this is really the case. There are still 10 days in which to do Christmas shopping, and according to the merchants, those who come the earliest get the best for there is a greater variety of stock to select from. There are still many in the Pikes Peak region who have holiday shopping to do, and the merchants have given out a list of reasons why they should come early, and save not only themselves but the employes of the various stores much useless worry and labor.

First, they point out that the early comer can buy at his leisure.

Second, that the shopper who comes early, both in the season and in the day, gets the most perfect service.

Third, that the early shopper can make selections from stocks that are fresh and complete.

Fourth, the early comer gets just as good bargains early as late, for the merchants all say that there will be no reduction in prices before Christmas.

Tickets for the Blosser lecture, at 25 cents apiece, can be secured at the Busy Corner drug store and at W. Chick's grocery store, 410 South Tejon street.

FIGURES SHOWN ON MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE

Statistics show that 108 divorce actions were filed in the county court and 60 in the district court, a total of 168. The total number of marriage licenses issued in Colorado Springs thus far for 1910 is 483. September proved the most popular month among the newlyweds, with a total of 62 licenses issued.

Nice Wood Yard for Able-Bodied Hoboes Hereafter

Able-bodied hoboes who in the future land in Colorado Springs showing a strong disinclination for work of any sort to earn their food and lodging, will be shown a yard containing wood ready for the saw, and will be invited to work there. The ratio of payment will be as follows. One hour's work, one meal, two hours' work, two meals; three hours' work, two meals and a night's lodging, and so on.

This is not a philanthropic proposition that has received the sanction of the Associated Charities, but a business matter, whereby a man wishing to run a wood yard, and Secretary Bruno, wishing to make the hoboes work for what they get, have joined forces. It is expected that the scheme will work out to the advantage of both. Certain it is that every hobo appearing well enough to stand an hour's work will forthwith be transported to the wood yard and told the rate of payment.

The wood yard went into action yesterday afternoon, and, from all reports, was a great success.

JUDGE LEWIS MAY SECURE PROMOTION

Reports from Washington are to the effect that Judge Robert E. Lewis, formerly of this city, but now on the United States district court bench in Denver, may be appointed to the bench of the United States circuit court to succeed Judge Willis Van Devanter of Cheyenne, Wyo. Judge Devanter has been appointed to the United States supreme court and, according to press dispatches, Judge Lewis will have the support of Senator Guggenheim, Senator Hughes and other influential men as his successor.

While district judge here, Mr. Lewis was appointed to the federal bench by Roosevelt, then President.

SALVATION ARMY IN NEED OF MORE HELP

Unless more money, food and clothing are donated, it is probable that the Salvation Army will be short in its supply of Christmas dinners and gifts this year for the needy poor. According to Adjutant Anna Hurst, the need is greater than ever, and the public is asked to give more liberally. The returns from the various pots which have been on the street corners for the last week have not been up to the standard, and the baskets will have to be smaller in order to go around. Gifts of jellies and canned fruit will be especially appreciated. The Army will call for the donations if notified.

RED CROSS STAMPS HAVE INTERESTING HISTORY

The sale of Red Cross Christmas seals in Colorado Springs has as yet assumed only very small proportions. So far only a few dollars' worth have been disposed of. In addition to the places of business recently named in The Gazette as having the seals for sale, the following are selling them: Murray Drug store, Owl Drug store, Butcher Drug store, the Out West Printing and Stationery company and the Santa Fe, Colorado and Southern and Rio Grande city ticket offices. They are also on sale in the lobby of the postoffice.

Secretary F J. Bruno of the Associated Charities, who has charge of the sale of the seals, furnishes the following history of Red Cross seals.

Red Cross Christmas seals date back in their origin to "charity stamps," first used for the soldiers' relief funds in Boston in 1862, during the Civil war. After the war, this method of raising money was discontinued in this country for a generation, although it found vogue in Portugal, Switzerland, Australia, France, Spain, Denmark, Norway, Russia, Sweden and other European countries. There are now several hundred different types of charity stamps used in all parts of the world.

Stamps or seals were first used to get money for the antituberculosis crusade in Norway and Sweden in 1904. After being used in three countries for three years, as a direct result of the interest of Jacob Riis in this movement, the Delaware Antituberculosis association, headed by Miss Emily P. Bissell, and the Red Cross society of Delaware combined in issuing a tuberculosis stamp. So successful was this campaign that nearly $3,000 was realized, and the next year, in 1908, the American Red Cross was induced to issue a National Red Cross tuberculosis stamp. From this sale, $135,000 was realized; that amount being almost doubled in 1909. This year, for the first time, the sale is organized on a comprehensive basis, taking in all parts of the United States. A million for tuberculosis work is confidently expected.

BENNETT BUILDING IS NEARING COMPLETION

Construction work on the new Bennett building on South Tejon street is being pushed, and the structure is rapidly nearing completion. The brick walls inclosing the steel frame work are almost completed and the interior will be finished without loss of time. The building is five stories high and the brick work in front is up to the fourth story. The building as it stands gives a good idea of the handsome and up-to-date appearance it will make when completed.

The building when completed will represent an outlay of $100,000.

QUININE DOESN'T CURE BAD COLDS

How to really break a severe cold and end all grippe misery in just a few hours.

You will distinctly feel your cold breaking and all the Grippe symptoms leaving after taking the very first dose.

It is a positive fact that Pape's Cold Compound taken every two hours, until three consecutive doses are taken, will end the Grippe and break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs.

It promptly relieves the most miserable neuralgia pains, headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

Take this harmless compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine, made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

WANT MONUMENT FOR ZEBULON PIKE

The question of providing a suitable monument in honor of the explorer Zebulon M Pike, discoverer of Pikes Peak, will be brought to the attention of the state legislature at the coming session, according to an announcement made by Brig Gen. Earl D Thomas at department headquarters in Denver yesterday. Judge Charles D. Hayt, General Thomas and Luther A. Norland, county commissioner of Conejos county, are the active supporters of a plan to mark the site of General Pike's fort on the Conejos river with a suitable monument and to ... stockade. This stockade was built by General (then major) Pike in February 1807, and marked the western limit of his first expedition to the Rocky mountains. General Pike and his party were captured there February 26 by a party of Spaniards sent out by the Mexican government, taken to Texas, and later to Chihuahua. The stockade was destroyed at that time.

The site of the fort is near La Jara, but its exact location never has been settled. General Thomas and Judge Hayt will go to La Jara, Saturday, and look over the ground. A site for the rebuilt fort and monument probably will be selected by them. The monument, if money for one can be secured, may be erected near the railroad station at La Jara, which is eight miles from the site of the original fort. The model stockade will be built as nearly as possible on the exact site of the original.

The only tribute to the work of General Pike in opening up the Rocky mountain country that has been made in Colorado is the bronze tablet and granite block in Antlers park, this city. The fort at La Jara, it is asserted, is the most significant point of Pike's first expedition.

MOUNTAIN ASH CHOIR IS EAGERLY AWAITED

The concerts of the Mountain Ash male choir, next Monday and Tuesday evenings are the talk in musical circles in Colorado Springs. This famous Welsh choir of 27 men, comprising the best male voices to be found in Wales, under the leadership of Wales' greatest conductor, T. Glyndwr Richards, has entranced the musical critics of the Old World and of the eastern part of the New World, and is now coming out to the west for the first time.

"The world's greatest singers," as they have been styled by Dr. Turpin, the famous English composer, can sing in several languages, and do so when called upon in the various countries they visit, but the charm of their singing is that the selections are such as are understood by and appeal to the ordinary lover of music as well as to the music critic. There is meaning and melody in all their numbers.

The program for the two concerts to be given at the First Methodist church next Monday and Tuesday nights will include selections from the masters, Welsh airs and popular numbers. They will be programs that can be enjoyed by all.

The Cymrodorion society of El Paso county is not bringing this chorus to Colorado Springs for financial profit. All the net proceeds from the concerts are promised to the new protestant hospital. The famous choir is being brought here to give the music lovers an opportunity of hearing real Welsh voices, fresh from the land of song. Those who attend the concerts will hear the far-famed tones of Welshmen, the pure tones as taught and sung in the little province of Great Britain. It will be novel to some, but the quality of the music will make it a treat to all.

PROF. COOLIDGE ATTENDS CONSERVATION COMMISSION

Professor P. T. Coolidge, acting dean of the Colorado Forestry school at Colorado College, was a prominent attendant at the meeting of the Colorado Conservation commission, which met yesterday at Denver. The board recommended that several members be dropped because of lack of interest.

PROF. MILLS' BOOK ON THERMODYNAMICS, OUT

Thermodynamics, a subject of importance to all steam engineers, has recently been presented in a concisely written book by Professor John Mills of Colorado College. The work is published by Ginn and Company of Boston and has just been received from the publishers for use in a class at the college. It covers all the elementary thermodynamics, or science of the motive power of heat, which is essential for present day engineers in their work with steam engines, turbines, gas engines or air compressors. The text is illustrated by a careful selection of diagrams and contains also many practical examples with complete numerical solution.

Mr Mills is also the author, with Professor Millikin of Chicago university, of a book on electricity much used in sophomore classes in physics. He is further engaged in writing a more technical book on electrical measurements.

BASEBALL MAGNATES HOLD BUSY SESSION IN GOTHAM

Lynch's Friends Say His Re-election Is Assured

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—With a meeting of the National commission, the supreme court of baseball, a meeting of the board of directors of the National league, a session of the National league itself, the final session of the Eastern league's annual meeting and preparations for the American league's annual meeting tomorrow, this was New York's busy day.

The National league occupied itself only with routine business and it is probable the election of a president will not come up until late tomorrow or Thursday. President Lynch's supporters say that his re-election is assured.

President Johnson said it might be authoritatively stated that the American league's meeting tomorrow would be brief, that the season next year will open on April 12 and continue for 154 games, or until about October 6, and "that the National league probably will adopt a similar schedule."

The Eastern league increased the salary of the president from $5,000 to $7,500 and authorized its new president, Edward T. Barrow, of Montreal, to open and maintain league headquarters here.

A committee was appointed "to investigate the matter" of a reclassification for the Eastern league, and to report to the meeting in Baltimore, February 6, when the schedule will be announced. It was decided to maintain the double umpire system started last season, and to play 154 games.

It is understood the Eastern league will insist on a reclassification so that the National and American leagues cannot draft so many of its players.

The National league session was devoted mainly to the reading of Secretary Heydler's minutes, and after spending four hours at this they adjourned until 2 o'clock tomorrow. Thus both the major leagues will be in session at the same time.

The board of directors of the National league administered what was considered a rebuke to President Lynch in the McMillan case. President Charles Ebbetts of Brooklyn, last season released McMillan to Rochester, of the Eastern league, and several major league clubs complained that Ebbetts had violated a rule of organized baseball in failing to obtain waivers. President Lynch fined Ebbetts $500. The board today "remitted the fine without comment." Lynch refused to discuss the action.

The National league officially awarded its pennant for last season to Chicago and decided to continue the pension payments to Mrs. Johnson, sister of Harry Pulliam, the league president, who, under heavy strain, ended his life a year and a half ago.

The matter of Pitcher Camnitz, who claimed a bonus of $1,200 from Pittsburg on what he said was a contract that he was to receive that amount if he did not touch liquor during the season, was laid over until the February meeting so that Camnitz can appear personally.

It was pretty well established tonight that Fred Tenney, former manager of the Boston Nationals but more lately first baseman of the New York Nationals, will be appointed manager of the Boston National league team negotiations for the sale of which are under way.

It was said that Fred Lake, present manager, whose contract has a year to run, will manage the St. Louis Americans, through a deal made with Robert Hedges, owner. Lake declined to discuss the matter today, but it is understood announcement of the change will be made tomorrow.

JOHNSON SAYS NOW HE WILL NOT FIGHT

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—For the first time since the Reno fighting days, Jack Johnson cut loose during a workout in his gymnasium late yesterday and today sports who saw the big black at work declare he has not lost an ounce of speed or cleverness during his rest since July 4. Johnson worked with his sparring partner, Walter Monahan, who meets George Cotton in Pittsburg, December 20. The champion showed everything he had in stock and in the three rounds he went with Monahan had him hanging on.

Johnson took occasion to deny that he had been matched to meet the winner of the Langford-Jeannette fight in Paris. If such a match has been made it is news to him, Johnson said, as he intended to take his trip to Europe purely for pleasure.

Johnson, when the news of the proposed Paris match was first received declared he wouldn't fight if the $25,000 offered by the Wagram club was put up. Today he shifted front.

"I won't talk about the match at all," he said. "When they put up the money in America I'll talk business. Until then I will not commit myself either way."

AT JUAREZ

JUAREZ, Mex., Dec. 13.—Meadow, second choice easily won the handicap, one mile, the feature of the card at Terrazas park today, defeating the 9-to-20 favorite, Helmet, by two lengths. Meadow took the lead on the [illegible] turn and held the race safely. The Parimutuels sold no tickets on Lucky Mose, a place or on Work Box, third. Two favorites won.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Zbyszko the Pole won two straight falls from Dr. B. F. Roller of Seattle in a wrestling match here tonight, thus winning the bout. The first fall was secured by a bar [illegible] hold, 13 minutes, 25 seconds, and the second by an arm roll in [illegible] minutes, 40 seconds.

President Tom Lynch, of the National league, whose re-election to head the major organization is prophesied by his supporters. The National league is in session in New York and the election of a president will probably be reached late today. Murphy, the Chicago club owner, is to spring a dark horse candidate according to reports.

DAN M'GANN, FORMER GIANT STAR, IS DEAD

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 13.—Dan D. McGann, former captain and first baseman of the New York Nationals, committed suicide today.

McGann was found in his room at Bosler's hotel at 4 o'clock this afternoon with a bullet hole over his heart and a revolver in his hand. He had been dead several hours. No one had seen him since midnight when he was apparently in the best of health. A maid entering his room this afternoon to clean it, discovered the body.

McGann last season was with the Milwaukee team of the American association and it was understood efforts were being made to secure him for the Louisville team for next season. So far no cause for his suicide has developed.

ATTELL-O'CONNELL FIGHT IS STOPPED

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 13.—A scheduled 10-round bout between Monte Attell and Jeff O'Connell was stopped by the promoters at the end of the fifth round here tonight, and entrance money was refunded. The promoters refused to pay either fighter.

Attell was to have received 30 per cent of the gross receipts.

The fight was tame from start to finish, Attell getting a shade the best of all exchanges.

Hissing started in the first round and throughout the fight the spectators could not be controlled. Between the rounds the noise would increase. Twice during the course of the fight Promoter Tommy Elks coming to the ringside requested the referee to make the two men fight or get out of the ring.

A JUNIOR TOURNEY ADDED FOR GOLFERS

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—The Metropolitan golf association in annual meeting tonight resolved to add a junior tournament to the regular amateur and open tournaments.

It was pointed out that it lacked young men in the tournaments, and that competitors especially those from the west were much younger in years. It is probable that the new fixture will be made an intercollegiate one.

CHALLENGE ISSUED ROYAL AERO CLUB

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—The Aero Club of America today cabled a challenge to the Royal Aero Club of England for the International aeroplane trophy won by Claude-Grahame White at Belmont park last September. The winning of this cup means the aeroplane championship of the world. Through the action of the Aero club America is the first challenger for next year's honors.

Vandemoer, on the left, and Jardine, on the right, are two of the star track men at Colorado College who are counted upon to bring the track championship to their institution again next spring. Both hold state records in their special events, Vandemoer in the 100 and 220 dashes, and Jardine in the half-mile. Early training for track and baseball men will be ordered by Coach Rothgeb soon after the Christmas holidays, and under his direction it is confidently expected that both Vandemoer and Jardine will be able to lower the marks which won for them in all of the state meets last summer.

IN THE WAKE OF THE NEWS

Jim Barry, who was a recognized champion when he retired, believes the bantamweight championship should be split in two classes, a 105 and a 115-pound division, the weighing to be done at the ringside. Fine! We can't have too many champions. Even as matters stand, Johnny Coulon, who is regarded as the bantam champion, inasmuch as he is willing to weigh in at the ringside at the required weight and has a record entitling him to recognition, has a rival in young Conley. The latter not only asserts he's a champion but is able to supplement his claim by saying, "If you don't think I'm a champion, look at my belt!" Conley got the belt from Tom McCarey, the California fight promoter. These championship belts are handy things to have around. John L. Sullivan was able to pawn his for $1,500. And did he? He did. Coulon and Conley are matched to settle the bantamweight controversy on February 15.

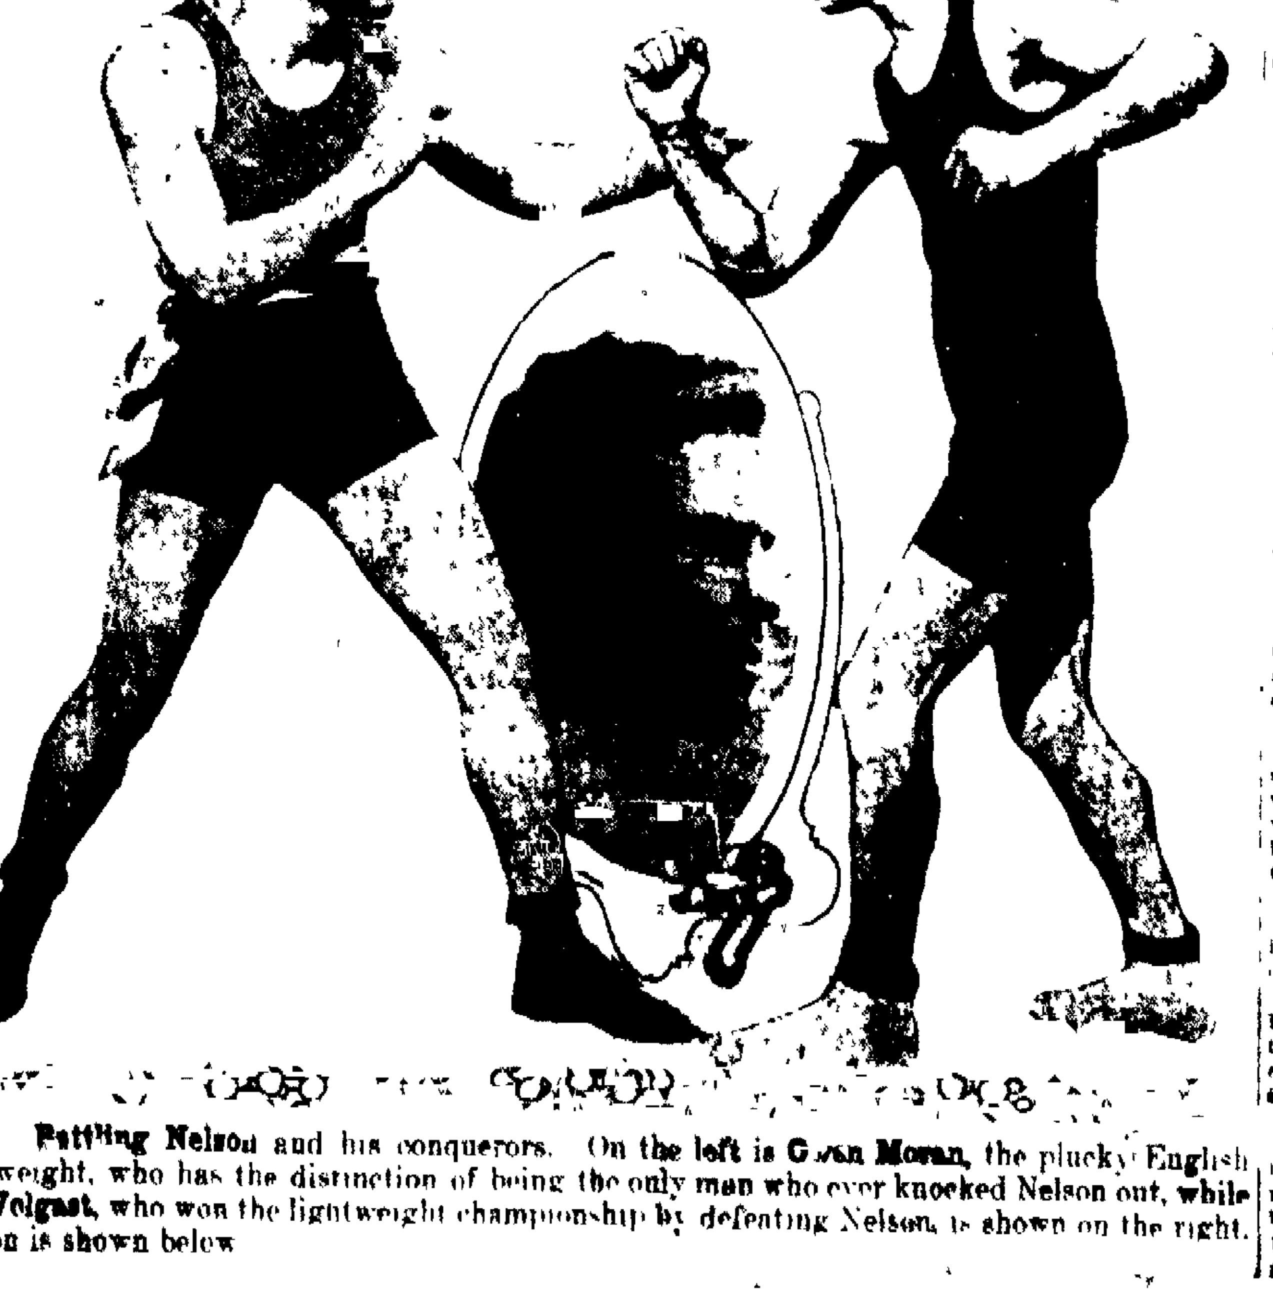

There is something more than superstition in the assertion that a big league pitcher always finds one or more clubs that he usually defeats. Just why this is a fact is unknown, but it is true nevertheless that some clubs, even if the lineup is frequently changed, have a hoodoo pitcher whom they defeat by accident. When Harry Krause of the Athletics was going right he had a habit of beating every team in the league, but was particularly successful against Boston. His complete mastery over the Hub aggregation has no parallel in baseball, perhaps, although other clubs have their "goats."

For instance, Covaleski, the former Phillie, could down New York if he couldn't beat any other team in the league. He put the Giants out of the pennant race in 1908 by beating them three times in five days. Rucker of Brooklyn is another who caused trouble for the Giants. So is Brown of Chicago. Pitted against Mathewson, the Giants' premier, Brown has won a number of notable contests. Mathewson, however, has the Indian sign on a lot of teams, including the Phillies and Cincinnati. Coombs and Bender of the Athletics, Johnson of Washington and a half-dozen other stars have their own particular teams against which they rarely lose.

Interest in local sporting matters today centers in a meeting of the Colorado College athletic board scheduled for this afternoon. The session has been called primarily to discuss the matter of retaining Rothgeb as athletic director and everything will be done by the board, it is understood, to retain him. In addition to the all important question of keeping Rothgeb, the subject of electing a football manager for next season will be taken up.

Reports issued from the University of Pennsylvania show that football and basketball are the only self supporting sports. In the former the receipts were $62,968, and the expenses $24,411, and in the latter the receipts were $2,368 and the expenses $2,193. And at that Penn says her football receipts this season were $30 000 less than in 1909.

Newspaper dispatches received yesterday from Iowa City bring the interesting information that Boulder has applied for membership in the Missouri valley conference. The application is to be considered, it is said, on January 6. Dean Parsons of Colorado College is quoted as inclined to discredit the report, although it comes from Prof. A. G. Smith, chairman of the Missouri valley organization. Evidently the resumption of athletic relations between Boulder and Denver are still far from being a certainty.

Battling Nelson and his conquerors. On the left is Owen Moran, the plucky English lightweight, who has the distinction of being the only man who ever knocked Nelson out, while Ad Wolgast, who won the lightweight championship by defeating Nelson, is shown on the right. Nelson is shown below.

MUDDLE AT MICHIGAN IS TO BE STRAIGHTENED OUT

New Athletic Board Will Organize This Week

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Dec. 13.—The new board in control of athletics that will dominate Michigan's athletic policy will be organized this week unless the present plans of the athletic authorities fall through. As soon as the board is organized something will be done to straighten out the tangle in which the recent action of the conference left the Wolverines athletic policy.

Meantime everything in an athletic way at Michigan is virtually at a standstill. Unquestionably Director Bartelme is feeling his way and probably will have some important disclosures to make to the new board of control when it meets next week and it is not at all improbable that some of his disclosures will throw some light on the advisability of taking action relative to seeking reinstatement into the conference.

If Michigan decides to enter the conference there probably would be little change in the football schedule for next year except that probably Minnesota again would occupy a place on the Wolverine schedule. Already Michigan has a contract with Pennsylvania, and as the new conference ruling prohibiting intersectional football games expressly disclaims any intention to operate retroactively so as to affect existing contracts, Michigan will play Pennsylvania at Berry field next fall.

Of the three faculty men named on the new board two are conference advocates, Professors Holbrook and Sadler inclining to the belief that Michigan belongs in the west, and that she ought to make sure of her athletic future by returning to the conference. That the conference authorities would welcome Michigan if the Wolverines make application for reinstatement [illegible].

On the attitude [illegible] other faculty representative [illegible] depends largely Michigan's future athletic policy. Professor Whitney [illegible] has [illegible] any tendency [illegible] any attitude in the matter—and [illegible] faculty representative has [illegible] selected.

While [illegible] is unusually [illegible] moves, events the athletes [illegible] are not allowing the uncertainty to interfere with their preparation for the coming season.

Coach [illegible] captain [illegible] of the baseball team have held a meeting of the prospective candidates for the Wolverine nine and announced their plans for the coming season.

The situation in baseball this spring is in marked contrast to that with which Rickey was confronted a year ago when he took up the task of coaching with a small nucleus of veterans on hand. The prospects were never brighter than this year.

Of the team that went through the season under Rickey a year ago only Captain Enz [illegible] is missing. Campbell, Smith and Verheyn won their M's last year on the slab and as at that time each of them was inexperienced they all ought to show great improvement this year. The infield and outfield both are intact.

BUGS RAYMOND WILL BECOME A WRESTLER

Clarke Silent As to Trading off H. Wagner

[illegible], Dec. [illegible].—Fred Clarke, manager of the Pittsburg Nationals, who [illegible] stopped over in Chicago on his way to the National league meeting in New York, [illegible] a few opinions of what is liable to happen in the trading line at the big session this week. Asked if the stories during the late fall regarding the disposal of Honus Wagner to some other club were true, Clarke said:

"I have been given to understand by Mr. Dreyfuss and the Pittsburg [illegible] that I am the only person that may make a change in the Pirate [illegible]. I [illegible] said nor have I intimated that Wagner [illegible] was [illegible] some other club. But I will say that I [illegible] to [illegible] I think will better the Pirate team.

He said he had been whetting his appetite in the trading line by swapping horses and mules ever since the season closed and thought he could turn a fair trick in the way of players at given half a chance.

PUEBLO CLUB WOULD BE WELL RECEIVED

OMAHA, Dec. 13.—The possibility of Pueblo returning to the Western league to displace Wichita which is encompassed about by an anti-Sunday baseball sentiment, in some respects offers [illegible] for congratulation in the hope of its being realized.

Pueblo fell out of the ranks for lack of patronage, that is true, but so did St. Joseph. The case is not unique. St. Joseph after several years outside the fold returned and is more than making good. Pueblo might do the same thing. There is no reason why it should not, every reason why it should. It is well territory that Frank Isbell [illegible] favorably to the Colorado town as an alternative.

The expense and trouble of transportation would be small. Colorado ought to give balance and symmetry and [illegible] of proportions to the circuit, [illegible] two cities in the Western league. It has been the rule. It is too long a jump for only one town. True, since Wichita and Topeka were added the jump is broken somewhat, but it would still be better to have the second Colorado city. It would help Denver, too, for that matter. Denver does not need help as much as some other towns in the league, for it has always been one of the best baseball cities in the west, but just the same Denver is always a better town when one of its sister cities is in on the circuit.

The treasury reports of the league, of course, will show what two mountain teams mean if a winning team [illegible] put [illegible] Pueblo things would take on new life and continue good. It would not need to be a pennant winner, but a team such as Frank Isbell [illegible] and may be relied on always to have—one of the old White Sox type, always fighting. That is what that town demands and the only [illegible] failed to support a team was because the last one it had went down [illegible] and could not be [illegible]. [illegible] town would support [illegible] take the example of [illegible] and even Des Moines. This looks like a good proposition, and, if Wichita must drop out by all means [illegible] to Pueblo. The [illegible] anyway.

Sam Langford, the "[illegible] Tar Baby," who is matched to fight Hugo Kelly, the Italian middleweight, on [illegible] 12. The articles call for 158 [illegible] and if Langford can make the weight without too great an [illegible] are that Kelley is in [illegible].

THE MONEY VALUE OF PARKS.

HERE is a valuable hint to Colorado Springs, from the current number of The Outlook:

Another striking instance of the commercial value of the beauty of landscape has appeared in the development of the remarkable system of parks and boulevards that has been established in Kansas City, Missouri, within the last fifteen years. In the recently published report of the Board of Park Commissioners of that city, Mr. George E. Kessler, landscape architect for the board, asserts that, while the system of parks and boulevards has cost ten million dollars, "the property fronting on these boulevards has been advanced by the more than that amount."

This statement is based on a careful investigation conducted with the co-operation of real estate dealers. When the system was projected, a little less than twenty years ago, the opposition to it from property owners was so intense that several years of hard fighting for legislation in the state and city governments, and later in the courts, was necessary before the work could begin. The system, which in fifteen years has grown to include forty-five miles of boulevards and park drives and more than twenty-one hundred acres of parks, has been paid for on the benefit-district system—that is, the cost in each case has been assessed against property in a limited district that has been benefited by the improvement. It was found that wherever parks and boulevards were established the character of the neighborhood at once improved. Slums disappeared and better houses were built. "Real estate men," Mr. Kessler says, "discovered years ago that frontage on boulevards easily doubles the market price of lots on streets two or more blocks distant."

As a result, Kansas City today is acquiring many miles of boulevards which cost nothing for the original dedication and construction. To obtain the first boulevard it was necessary to condemn strips of ground and to construct roadways, parking, and walks, assessing the cost against the property. Now, as additions are made to the city, many property owners desire to plat the ground to include boulevards, to dedicate and build such boulevards at their own expense, and deliver them finished to the city. The work, of course, is done under the supervision of the Park Commission. In this way several miles of boulevard have been added to the system. The change in attitude toward the park and boulevard system has been due in part to the elevation of public taste, which now demands beauty in city building. But an exceedingly important factor has been the discovery that beauty is an asset that can be realized on commercially.

Kansas City is about ten times the size of Colorado Springs and conditions there are very different from ours. But it is well to observe that the far-sighted and public-spirited people of Kansas City got their magnificent park system only after a hard struggle. For years they had to work and agitate, and even to fight in the courts to overcome the opposition of the very people who are now trying enthusiastically to get even more parks and boulevards.

This is a point worth keeping in mind. The kind of progress that is really worth while is made in any city only after a hard fight. Invariably there are many people, some of whom are highly influential, who oppose public improvements and often sincerely believe that they are doing it for the ultimate good of the public. There is nothing for the progressive element to do but labor unceasingly to overcome this opposition by reason and argument, or, if this fails, to go ahead with improvements anyway provided a way can be found to make them.

The experience of Kansas City will be the experience of Colorado Springs. Our park system is not as fully appreciated now as it will be a few years hence, and when that time comes citizens will look back and wonder how there ever could have been any opposition, for instance, to the acceptance of Monument Valley Park when it was offered as a free gift.

NAVAL DEVELOPMENT.

THE report of the Secretary of the Navy, published a few days ago, contains the usual recommendation for two new dreadnoughts. Unlike Germany and some other European nations the United States has no definite program of naval increase but instead builds each year whatever new vessels may be agreed upon by Congress and the Navy Department. But for several years Congress has authorized two new battleships at each session, providing a rate of increase sufficient to build the navy up to its present rank as second only to that of Great Britain.

But this rank is soon to be lost. The German program, adopted ten years ago and adhered to with slight variations ever since, is more extensive than ours. For instance, the German naval appropriation bill for 1910 authorized the construction of three battleships and one armored cruiser, while for the same period Congress authorized only two battleships. The German program takes into consideration the gradual retirement of old vessels that have become obsolete, thus providing for the future day when the many vessels that have been built in the last few years will become ready for the junk heap at about the same time.

There is no special reason why the United States should maintain a navy larger than that of Germany, if it means a costly race to do so. The possibility of our ever being at war with the Germans is exceedingly remote, for it is hardly likely that the Kaiser will ever attempt to infringe the Monroe doctrine in South America, which is the only casus belli that could be imagined. The whole aim of the present unexampled naval activity in Germany is the humiliation of Great Britain, and therefore it would be a reckless waste of money for the United States to continue the effort to keep ahead of the Germans.

Nevertheless it is plain that the navy should not be permitted to fall below its present standard, that is, a first and second line of battle of twenty ships each, but Secretary Meyer points out in his report that unless provision is made to replace ships which are soon to become obsolete the first line will be reduced to seventeen ships by 1916.

When the Democrats assume control of the House in the next session they will of course attempt to make a record of economy in preparation for the 1912 election, and they probably will begin by pruning naval expenditures. For this reason it is to be hoped that the usual authorization of two dreadnoughts will be made at the present session.

A DISTINGUISHED FIRE.

Clinton (Mo.) Democrat.

The fire department was called Monday morning at 3:30 o'clock to the fruit and confectionery stand of J. N. Effert on South Washington street. Mr. Effert sleeps in the rear of the store, in the south room, and when the fire broke out the noted water spaniel dog Rex began to bark and to tell his master that there was something wrong. When Mr. Effert saw that there was a fire he notified the department, which came at once and distinguished the fire.

A BEGINNING.

From the New York World

Postmaster General Hitchcock in his annual report recommends the establishment of the parcels post in the rural free delivery, with packages limited to 11 pounds. A beginning which even the express companies may tolerate, as they do almost all their business in the cities, and practically no business at all in the rural districts.

REFERENDUM IN SOUTH DAKOTA.

From the Saturday Evening Post.

South Dakota has adopted the referendum. The official ballot in the recent election was six feet long and voters were privileged to record their judgment upon such a subject as whether locomotives should be equipped with headlights of fifteen hundred candle power.

This provokes vast and rather hysterical amusement among those who think it absurd that voters should be privileged to do anything except choose between two candidates neither of whom was selected by them nor can be depended upon to represent their interests.

Washington was severely attacked. It got less than forty per cent of the popular vote in his first campaign, and but little over half the northern vote in his second. In fine democracy makes mistakes and people who do not believe in democracy derive much comfort from them without feeling bound to point out that system of government which does not, on the whole, make far more previous mistakes. That a question about headlights should be put on the ballot proves, to such people, that the referendum is a failure, but fifty legislative acts taxing railroad property less than farm property could not prove to them that there was any fault in the older system.

BEING HAPPY.

From Collier's

A middle west farmer afflicted with asthma was compelled to go to Colorado for his health. He had not been in Colorado long before he sold his farm on the flats and bought a mountain ranch. Returning health gave him a livelier sense of life. He became interested in farmers' institutes and learned much about farming that had never occurred to him. Back home he had been content if he paid his running expenses and netted a very modest annuity. His first potato crop in Colorado netted him $125 an acre, after charging up current wages for his own labor and that of his horses, a practice which had not been his custom in the east. He found farmers who had farmed in Colorado for thirty years without a single failure of crops. The seasons were long, and if the farmer failed properly to water his crops from his ditches it was his own fault. He was as sure of his crop as he was of his seasons. The wagon roads were good eleven months of the year. The soil was wonderfully rich and enduring in the properties necessary for the raising of sugar beets, potatoes, alfalfa, vegetables and fruits. Our Colorado friend encouraged some of his neighbors in the old home to follow his example. Those who could not live comfortably in winter on the flats found health and prosperity on the southern slopes of the Rockies. The sun made farm work a pleasure. The air of the mountains renewed the physical joys of life.

INTOXICANTS AND TOBACCO.

From Harper's Weekly.

We are drinking more alcoholic drinks than ever, more not only in gross, but per capita. So the internal revenue bureau says after toting up its receipts for the year ending on the 30th of last June. Here is its report of some of the products that paid taxes:

143,000,000 gallons of distilled spirits, 30,000,000 gallons more than the year before.

59,485,117 barrels of fermented liquors, an increase of 3,000,000 barrels.

7,600,000,000 cigars, 160,000,000 more than 1909.

6,830,000,000 cigarettes, an increase of 1,000,000,000.

402,000,000 pounds of plug, fine-cut, cubecut, granulated, or sliced smoking or chewing tobacco or snuff, 4,000,000 pounds more than the year before.

141,862,282 pounds of oleomargarine, 50,000,000 pounds increase.

It appears that the consumption of spirits increased last year by over twenty per cent. Perhaps taxes were paid on more liquor than was drunk, but the payments from year to year are a pretty close measure of consumption. That drinking should increase in the face of so much prohibition and local-option legislation causes some astonishment, but is not, we believe, contrary to experience. Legislation may have an effect on manners, methods and details of consumption, but it does not change habits. Prohibition, if Maine is any criterion, does not help at all in promoting temperance. Local option may do good, but is more likely to benefit the rising generation than the one whose habits are formed.

It is possible that in spite of the internal revenue figures the manner of drinking may be improved and the drinks better distributed.

It bears on this subject that of the nine millions of population in New York state seven millions live in cities. Local option in this state is confined to country townships. The increase of city population all over the country has doubtless a relation to this increase in the consumption both of alcohol and tobacco. The nervous tension of city life is greater than of country life, calling more for stimulants, and affording more convenient opportunities to get them. Drinking and smoking, too, are both social practices and there is more society in the cities than in the country.

The consumption of spirits has increased more in proportion than the consumption of beer, and the consumption of cigarettes more than that of cigars. The report is not complimentary to legislation.

The frost upon the ground is lying; the winds about the eaves are crying, and winter batters at our portals, and brings a chill to gloomy mortals.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES

Outside, the world is sad and dreary; the tortured trees are wailing, weary; but in the kitchen all is gladness, there is no sign of winter sadness! Let winter rave till it is dizzy—for Mary Jane is getting busy! Around the stove she makes a clatter; she stirs her good old luscious batter, and fusses with the trusty skillet, and now with dope she'll deftly fill it, and in a minute we'll be eating her buckwheat cakes, all records beating! O buckwheat cakes and maple syrup! Hand me my lyre and hear me chirrup! O may their virtues vanish never! They brace a man for high endeavor; they fill him with a noble ardor—the more we have, we eat the harder—they fill us with a soothing vision of fragrant isles and fields elysian, and all the world seems bright and joyous, and trifling ills do not annoy us. Had I the harp of Burns or Shelley I'd sing the rapture of man's belly when to its depth the buckwheat passes, all soaked in Canada molasses!

The Daily Chit Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

Have you got it done yet, as you really ought to have—or are you in the midst of it—as you probably are, or have you it all still to do?

What?—why your Christmas shopping, of course, who on the earth or off of it—wonder if they have Christmas in the inhabited planets—is thinking of anything else at this time of the year?

If you haven't got the subject of Christmas along with your Christmas presents neatly done up in white paper, tied with red ribbon and put away in your bureau drawer, here are a few dishabille dos-and-don'ts on the subject.

Don't make up a list planning what you are going to spend on each person, be cajoled by attractive showings at the stores into spending "just a little more" on each gift, and then be amazed that the sum total is so astonishingly in excess of your original appropriation.

(I do it every year so I can warn you with much feeling.)

Don't be afraid to give people things they sometimes make themselves. Last year an aunt of mine who at one time or another has knitted bedroom slippers for almost everybody in Christendom had a pair of bedroom slippers given her by the only friend who doesn't know her slipper knitting proclivities.

We thought she would be disappointed but she was delighted. "My dears," she said, "I've been using the most dilapidated slippers for the last three years because I knit so many to give away that I just didn't have time to make any for myself."

Take that hint and don't be afraid to give embroideries to some friend who embroiders. Ten to one, she either doesn't have time or doesn't like to do it for herself.

If you have some friend who has hard work to make both ends meet, don't invariably say, "I must give her something useful," and deluge her with homely useful things; but occasionally vary the monotony by giving her some pretty, dainty, frivolous gift. There are heart needs as well as body needs and in giving her a dainty jabot or pretty pin you may satisfy a craving for something pretty, as imperative as the craving for food or drink.

Don't forget the red cross stamps. The postoffice issued an edict last year that these stamps should not be placed on the front of letters or packages because of the confusion that this causes in the postoffice department, but you may put as many as you like on the back of letters and packages and use them as stickers and in this way you may help furnish the sinews of war for one of the greatest fights that ever was waged—the battle against the great white plague in America.

Do, if you can, keep or sign this pledge. It was circulated by some enthusiastic young reformers and called "Yours for a courageous, sincere and Christs Christmas."

"I will give no gift which I cannot afford.

"I will give no gift which has not love behind it.

"I will give some gifts which shall not be exchange gifts at all, but be generosity to some one to whom it will give very much."

GANDY OWENS

PUBLISHERS CLAIM REPORT IS COLORED

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—The paper committee of the American Newspaper Publishers association has sent a letter to the government tariff board, pointing out that the United States consul at Quebec, in reporting upon the available pulp wood supply for American paper mills from private forests in Quebec, has suppressed data that had been furnished to the consul by the highest authority in that province and that the consul had misrepresented the situation.

The consul's report said the recent prohibitions "will not have the effect of reducing the quantity of pulp wood for export for some years to come, and perhaps never," implying that all the present needs of the American market, that is, one million cords of pulp wood, could be obtained from private forests.

According to the committee, the suppressed data from official sources showed that only 330,000 cords per annum would, under present restrictions, be available for the American market.

The letter charges that an area of 180,000 square miles of public forests had been withdrawn as a source of supply and that the private forests now available measure approximately 7,800 square miles, or one twentieth of the total forest area; that half the private forests are in hard wood, not spruce; that nine-tenths of the private forest areas has been ruthlessly lumbered for other woods, and that the eastern section had been exhausted. It is asserted that forest fires have reduced the available supply; that part of the area is inaccessible; that Canadian mills are taking 200,000 cords a year for their uses from the private forests.

It is declared that five million cords have already been cut from those private forests to supply American mills and that the countervailing and the retaliatory duties, which the Payne-Aldrich tariff imposed, have put a premium of $1.92 per cord upon the cutting of wood from private lands in Quebec. It is said the supply is so inadequate that the Canadian manufacturers paid $180,000 last year in additional duties to the United States because they were forced to use wood cut from public lands.

On behalf of those who pay $60,000,000 a year for news print paper, the committee "protests against one-sided and colored reports."

LIVELY TIMES AT THE ELECTION IN LONDON

LONDON, Dec. 13.—The standing of the parties tonight follows:

Government coalition—Liberals, 199; Nationalists, 68; Independent Nationalists, 9; Laborites, 36. Total, 302.

Opposition Unionists, 248.

There were 42 headings today, but the results in only six constituencies were announced tonight. The coalition therefore have one gain to the good.

Party feeling continues to run strong in Cork, where there are conflicts daily between the opposing factions. David Sheehy, member of the house of commons, in a riot today, was struck by a stone and so badly injured that he was unconscious for some time. No less than 100 persons have been treated in the Cork infirmary since the elections began, and 80 were admitted in one night.

Philip Snowden, the Socialist member for Blackburn, announced that after the veto question has been disposed of, the Laborites will press for the passage of an elaborate reform bill to abolish plural voting, to which he ascribed the Unionist successes in many districts.

PRESBYTERIANS AGAINST IMMERSIONAL BAPTISM

PITTSBURG, Dec. 13.—A movement to authorize immersional baptism in Presbyterian churches in the United States was approved in the report of a committee to the Pittsburg Presbyterian today, but after a heated discussion was defeated.

The Rev. Dr. S. C. Schaff of the Western Theological seminary, chairman of the committee on bills and overtures, reported the recommendation that the words "sprinkling and pouring" be stricken from the book of discipline, and the word "baptize" substituted.

The Rev. W. L. McEwer, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church, cautioned against hurried action on so important a matter and declared that under the present method a member may demand privilege of immersion.

The Rev. John Royal Harris, of the Shady Avenue church, said:

"I would not immerse in the name of the trinity, and I would leave the church first."

The change was finally defeated by a large majority.

Carnegie May Give Money to Promote Peace Propaganda

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The Washington Star today published an article in part as follows:

"That Andrew Carnegie will announce Thursday night the gift of a large sum of money to some international organization having to do with the world peace propaganda is the belief of many who are in more or less close touch with Mr. Carnegie and his philanthropic plans.

"Mr. Carnegie will make the announcement. It is expected at the opening session of the conference of the American Society for Judicial Settlement of International Disputes, at the New Willard hotel, Thursday.

"Rumors to this effect, emanating from an authoritative source, have been in circulation for some time. The publication of such a rumor from Boston, and of the refusal of Mr. Carnegie's personal representative in New York to either affirm or deny the truth of the story and of his advices, have patience,' has tended to strengthen the belief that Washington will be the place for the announcement.

"Whether the gift will attain the proportions of $10,000,000, as stated is problematical."

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

A motor club has been formed at Naperville, Ill., with 62 charter members.

There are 44,769 automobiles, with 569,276 horsepower, registered in France.

Philadelphia is considering a plan to electrify its horse-drawn police patrol wagons, using the new Edison storage battery. Motor fire wagons and engines are also talked of.

Dates for the Newark, N. J., automobile show have been fixed for the week of February 18 to 25, and its promoters are busy trying to find a suitable hall.

The Indianapolis speedway management has already received an entry for the big race that is to be held out there on May 27, of next year.

A cut of about 10 per cent in the prices of solid rubber tires for motor trucks is looked for as a result of the drop in the crude rubber market.

Houston county, Ga., is improving all its roads, yet the work is costing the county only a little more than $15,000 a year. The work is done by chain gangs of convicts.

It has been figured out that Woodrow Wilson, former president of Princeton university and governor-elect of New Jersey, covered more than 2,000 miles by automobile during his successful campaign tour.

War on the "thank-you-ma'ams" in Eastern Pennsylvania, has been declared by the automobile clubs of Reading, Pa., and Lehigh county. Several Pennsylvania judges have decided that the "bumps" are unnecessary.

The Automobile club of Columbus, Ohio, may abandon its proposed automobile shows unless a suitable hall can be secured, nearer to the heart of the city than the Ohio State Fair grounds.

During the last fiscal year Canada imported 1,424 automobiles, their value being $1,782,215, of which $1,549,227 came from the United States. Canada manufactured and exported automobiles to the value of $405,611.

One of the features of the Philadelphia Automobile show this year, which is scheduled for the Third Regiment armory the two weeks of February 14 to 28, will be a large display of electrics.

On the opening day of the next state legislature, the New Jersey Automobile and Motor club will present a bill remedying the present defects in the motor vehicle law. This bill is now being whipped into shape by the legal committee of the club.

A Commercial Truck show will be given in Pittsburg, from April 4 to 8, 1911, under the auspices of the Automobile Drivers association of Pittsburg. The regular pleasure vehicle show will be held March 25 to April 1. Both will be in Duquesne Garden.

A Dayton, Ohio man, Robert Liedorf by name, has invented what he calls an aeroplane-automobile. The inventor claims that his car will carry two or three passengers and that when tired of motoring or when desiring to cross an unbridged stream, the operator has but to pull a lever and soar.

"Beauty doctor" firms are now putting out a box or casket for the fair motorist to take with her to guard her complexion against wintry blasts. The boxes contain all manner of creams, soaps and lotions, powders and eyewashers. Nor are they cheap, mostly ranging in price from $15 up.

The difference between an American and a European was shown at the close of the Grand Prize race at Savanah, Ga. Brewn, the winner, preferred to take his prize money—$4,000 in the form of a New York draft; but Hemery, who finished second, wanted his in gold, fresh from the mint. Both men were given their way.

As a means of compromising the long and bitter automobile war at Bar Harbor, Me., a syndicate of summer residents is purchasing land for a private road from Trenton to Bar Harbor, to be used only by automobiles, and which, being constructed entirely by private funds, will not fall within the ban of the prohibitory laws against automobiles. This it is believed, will settle the whole controversy, as the autoists have no desire to go upon the drives of the island, but only to reach Mt. Desert with their machines.

There being but one small automobile factory in Denmark, practically all of the automobiles in service are imported. Small runabouts, costing $750, for use by professional men, are seen in considerable numbers. There is a low import duty on automobiles—2.68 cents per 2.2 pounds.

Bombay and Calcutta, India, have taken their place among the modern cities of the world in the matter of up-to-date locomotion. Sixty taxicabs are to be introduced at once, a company having been organized with a view to the undertaking. Cab hire is at the rate of 16 cents a mile.

Within the reef district in Johannesburg, South Africa, there are at least 1,000 motor cars in practical use. This number includes about 60 taxicabs, of European make. The types of automobiles which seem to be particularly in demand are cars of from 16 to 28 horsepower. The prices which seem to be most favored are from $1,250 to $2,500.

In the hilly island of Porto Rico, where the roads were built originally for heavy traffic, and particularly for military service, with very slight regard for grades, there is now a demand for automobiles in excess of the supply. There are about 7.0 miles of splendid roads on the island. But the humidity of the climate is exceedingly hard on automobiles.

The Italian minister of public works has granted licenses for the opening of 52 new automobile lines, whose total length represents 1,864 miles, for the transportation of passengers and small freight throughout the kingdom. Three taxicabs were recently put into commission in Palermo. There never have been any American-made automobiles in Palermo.

The touring department of the Chicago, Ill., Automobile club, has been granted permission by the South Park commission of Chicago to place sign boards along the south side boulevard system. The club is making preparations for its fourth annual New Years run, the participants this year going to Half Day, by way of Highland park.

Beginning January 1, 1911, Swiss triptyques for foreign automobile tourists will be good for one year instead of for six months only, as heretofore. This step on the part of the Swiss government, brings the Swiss triptyques into uniformity with those of the other nations of continental Europe, and will be a great convenience to American tourists.

A short top-heavy personage, with tiny shriveled-up legs, a huge elastic heart, a colorless, keen, ferrety face, and beady bird-like eyes, capable of seeing not only ahead, but horizontally outward without any movement of the head—such is the picture of the future human being when aeroplaning comes into vogue, as drawn by the Lancet, England's leading medical journal.

The Boston Automobile Dealers association already is confronted with the problem of supplying space for all those who wish to exhibit at the show to be held there, March 4 to 10. A plan to limit the amount of space to be allotted is under consideration. A corps of architects and engineers has surveyed Mechanics building and it is thought that considerable additions to the available space can be made by slight alterations.

An ordinance has been introduced in the Milwaukee common council, increasing the penalty for exceeding the speed limit. It is a Socialist-Democratic idea. For the first offense, a fine of not less than $100 is provided. The present minimum is $10 and maximum $25. A second offense is to draw a penalty of three months in the house of correction, and the third offence one year in the house of correction. The speed limit is to remain at 12 miles an hour.

New Hampshire's newly formed State Automobile association is presided over by a former state governor, Charles M. Floyd, who has long been interested in motoring and good roads, with a nucleus of several strong clubs, including those at Portsmouth, Dover and Manchester. Other clubs are in process of organization, and the State association probably will have at least six clubs practically from the start. A new Manchester club has been formed.

That the closed car is coming more and more into popular favor may be readily seen by noting the motor vehicles which whirl about the streets in cities and large towns. There was a time when closed cars were for the wealthy. The limousine body cost as much as some cars, and it was to be had only on the higher-priced models. But now this is all changed or changing. Limousine bodies are obtainable at moderate prices, and what is still more of an innovation, pretty nearly every maker is prepared to supply his patrons with closed or semiclosed cars.

In Michigan, the secretary of state has evolved an idea for stopping speeding of automobiles. He has sent out blanks to all townships and cities with a request for the names and addresses and other data about all persons who have been arrested for speeding in the last year. It is the intention to make a black list of this and have a copy sent out to all authorities, so if a person is arrested for speeding it will be possible to find out at once if he has been arrested before and for what offense. In this way the judges will know what fines to inflict, taking in consideration the record of the person arrested.

France, the originator and most successful promoter of long-distance races France, the originator and most successful promoter of long-distance races on the road, is again to enter the field. A big international race or rather two races on the same day—will be promoted in the spring of 1911, under the management of the Automobile club of the Sarthe and Oise and the patronage of the Automobile club of France. The period between May 15 and July 15 is set for the race, which will be held on the famous Sarthe circuit, which was the scene of the grand prize races in 1905 and 1906. This circuit measures 373 miles. Cups, medals and a $1,000 prize will be given.

The motor show situation in Milwaukee, Wis., has taken a serious turn and the split between the Milwaukee Automobile club and the dealers, which threatened to weaken the second annual club show last February, has been made complete. The dealers now have organized a permanent association and at a meeting last week decided to hold the first annual show during the week beginning January 15, 1911. The club as usual, had planned to hold its third show during the week following the Chicago show, or February 12. The club has an option on the Auditorium for this period, while the Dealers association has contracted for the use of the building during the week of January 15.

A lively story comes from Iowa of a man whose car was struck by a switch engine on a crossing. The radiator was torn completely away and the hood was so bent that it was discarded. Examination showed the motor was still all right and would run, but there was no place to store water for cooling purposes after the radiator was lost. The man took a large milk can and put it on the running board at the right, wiring it so that it would stay. Then with one piece of garden hose run from the milk can full of water to the intake pipe and another run from the exhaust and extended to the milk can he set out his journey again.

When the decorators turn the Grand Central palace in New York over to the automobile exhibition on New Years eve, the builder of that auditorium will have difficulty in recognizing his handiwork. The most elaborate and effective scheme ever attempted in automobile setting is now under way. The whole interior of the palace is being made into an Italian garden, with the rotunda forming the main court. Crimson and cream are the keynotes of the daring color scheme daring because any shade of red is usually considered a trying color. But those who are working on the plan of decoration have shaded their illumination so cleverly that the effect is attractive without being garish. Overhead a crimson canopy, richly embroidered, hides the rafters and structural iron work. This canopy contains 15,000 square feet of material, and is an ingenious feature of the general decorative plan.

A. L. Westgard, chairman of the committee on tours of the Touring Club of America, who recently crossed the continent from New York to Los Angeles, compiling road data, is particularly enthusiastic over the good roads outlook in the west. At Omaha the mayor and many city officers showed their interest in the Touring club's efforts to establish a satisfactory route. If it becomes a state road, as is hoped, it will joint the river-to-river road from Omaha to Davenport, crossing the state of Iowa, leaving only short strips in Illinois and Kansas as gaps in a complete trunk line from Chicago to Kansas City. As a study in road conditions, the results of this transcontinental trip will be particularly valuable. Motorists who have been contemplating something new in touring will find a trip to some of the little traveled, but most atractive sections of the great southwest replete with strange sighs and picturesque grandeur.

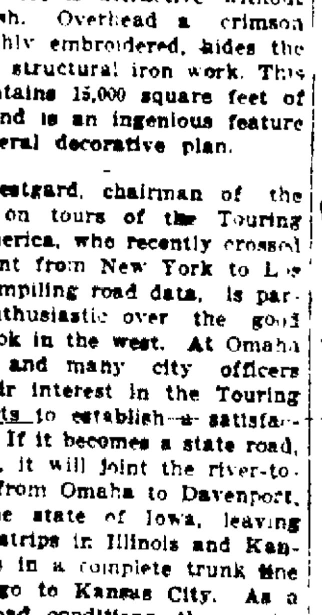

Knitting now is recommended by doctors as a cure for "nerves." It always has been regarded as a soothing occupation for women, but not until recently has it been prescribed in the place of nerve medicine. The physicians, however, point out that usually when a woman has the "nerves" she is worrying about her housework or little things of minor consequences. "Light needlework," say the doctors, "comes under the category of amusements and is prescribed for the woman with nerve trouble by her doctor in the same way as golf is recommended for men. It is something to keep her mind occupied without too much strain. 'Nerves' too often are caused by a woman having no occupation and letting her mind rest on little vexatious things. No woman, however, should undertake knitting who has a distaste for it, and it should not be turned into an irksome task, for then the beneficial effect will be lost."

PERFUMED LINEN IS THE LAUNDRY'S NEWEST FANTASY

O, Augustus! Is your linen coming back from the laundry each week with a delicate tinge of perfumery clinging to it?

Well, that's funny. It's all the style with our artistic hand and steam laundries these days. Your launderer isn't giving full value unless he scents his starched output—just a mite. Even if he is wrecking your shirts at Chinese rates he has no excuse for not keeping up with the fashion.

You'll notice by—this that we're getting awfully esthetic and recherche and all that sort of thing. Even the mangling plants have caught the habit. Not content with furnishing translucent collar buttons and sky blue paper bands, they now go a step beyond the limit and add a dash of cologne to the plaited victims of their torture chambers.

It used to be that the hallroom resident or hotel guest on ripping open his package of washables was at first assailed by a peculiar dry odor somewhat redolent of yaller soap and suds and parboiled starch. But no more of such fleeting whiffs. When he spreads out his array of three stiff shirts and six collars, each battered and wounded, and with a look of extreme anguish in the eyelets, he is soothed by a fragrant aroma. It speaks of buttercups and daisies and sweet meadows and lowing kine. It brings back to memory the salubrious smells of the open country in springtime after a refreshing rain. It bespeaks bowers of blooms and the tepid air of the conservatory.

Method in Their Madness.

The laundry patron is charmed and his soul radiations set to harmony. In this state of delicious rumination he is liable to overlook the gaping wounds in his collar fronts, the dagger gashes between the plaits and the crevices in the cuffs. Neither is he in a mood to read the roll call of his buttons to count the missing.

O, there's a method in the esthetic ism of the laundry proprietors. They are not giving away olfactory banquets for nothing.

John Chung, managing editor of the Yo Tun Loo laundry on the south side, expressed extreme doubt as to the final efficacy of the perfumery plan in smoothing the protests of belligerent customers.

"Smellee nice make 'em stop kick?" said Mr. Chung. "All same diam lie. Melicans kick on coll' and shirtee if smellee nice, all same. Sure!"

After divulging this important opinion on the matter, Mr. Chung resumed at the ironing board, spraying the clothes from a rubber squirt with what might have been perfume, but which was in reality lake water of several days' accumulation.

If the perfuming habit goes much further and gathers force it is likely that many articles of commerce which at present are as odorless as the cotton boll will assume a scented flavor.

There will be scented handbags, walking sticks, umbrellas, card cases, watch fobs, neckties, hat bands and gloves. Why not, if linen other than handkerchiefs is now made fragrant for the use of men as well as for women? And beginning with scented sofa pillows, what's the matter with applying the delightful tincture to other articles of household furniture, including piano covers and portieres?

Scented social stationery is already on the market in large quantities. And now the enterprising dealer to the elite has introduced perfumed ink. A bas the typewriter when one can scrawl out a billet doux with a fragrant inspiration in every dip of the gold pen. Even to spread writing fluid on one's finger tips will not be such a calamity hereafter. A fountain pen will be equivalent to the most potent sachet bag. By the way, Pole Sam, what's the matter with [illegible]

That after the construction of said district or main sewers and manholes in said Storm Sewer District No. 1, the council will as circumstances may require, provide separately for the construction of catch basins, connections with main sewer, and all other necessary appurtenances for complete storm drainage in and for the whole or a part of sub-districts numbered A and B. In behalf of which additional work, new and additional proceedings will be taken, additional and new approximate estimates of the costs will be made and due notice will be given as provided for by the ordinances of the city relating to public improvements.

"That the probable cost, as shown by the total estimate of the engineer, of the district or main sewers and manholes in Storm Sewer District No. 1 is $40,448.30, and that the maximum share of said total estimate that will be assessed upon any lot or lands in the district will be as follows, to-wit: On a platted lot of 25 by 190 feet and containing 4,750 square feet, the assessment will be $32.82. "That said assessment shall be due and payable without demand within thirty days from and after the final passage of the ordinance, assessing the whole cost against said real estate; providing, however, that any owner who shall pay his full assessment within said period of thirty days may receive a discount of six per centum, added for cost of collection, etc., and also a discount on such payment, at six per centum per annum from the date of said payment to the time the first installment is payable, or in default thereof, in ten equal annual installments of principal, with interest at six per centum on unpaid installments, the first of said installments shall be due and payable upon the next succeeding date after the passage of said assessing ordinance upon which general taxes, or the first installment thereof, are by the laws of this state made payable, and the remainder of said installments shall be due and payable successively on the same day of each year thereafter until paid in full.

"That a map of the district to be assessed showing the location of the proposed sewer mains and manholes, from which map the approximate share of said total cost that will be assessed upon each piece of real estate in the district may be readily ascertained; the estimates of the engineer and all proceedings of the council in the premises are on file and can be seen and examined by any person interested, at the office of the City Engineer at any time during business hours on or before and until eleven o'clock a. m. on the 28th day of December, 1910, on which day and at said hour the council will hear at the Council Chamber in the City Hall, all complaints and objections concerning the proposed sewers and appurtenances that may be made by the owners of any real estate to be assessed, or by any person interested.

"That the City Clerk be and he is hereby directed to cause to be published for ten days in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the city, a notice directed to the property owners and all persons interested in the said improvements, without naming them, which notice shall recite the substance of this resolution and notify said property owners of the time and place when a hearing will be had as herein provided for."

As directed by said resolution, I hereby notify you that on the 28th day of December, at the hour of eleven o'clock a. m., at the council chamber in the City Hall a hearing will be had by the council as provided in said resolution, and that at said time and place you may present your views concerning any and all matters pertaining to said district and the improvements proposed to be made therein.

TRADING IS LIGHT AND PRICES LOWER

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Such activity as the stock market displayed today was invariably in the direction of lower prices. Business was the lightest of any full day for some time, and narrower than usual in that operations were confined almost exclusively to the few issues commonly known as speculative leaders. Trading in these amounted to over 75 per cent of the whole, and the professional element had the field to itself.

A sharp decline in foreign exchange to the lowest point in almost three years on heavy offerings of bankers' bills, denoted the strenuous efforts now being made to import gold before the end of the year. A notable feature of the London market was the easier rate charged in the settlement of commitments on American securities there. The general settlements proceeded without strain in any quarter. Americans were irregular in London but closed with a rally. Trading for that market was again nominal. In our own commodity markets grain was steady, with lower prices for cotton. Exports of merchandise for the current week are estimated at a figure below those of the previous week and the corresponding week of 1909.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $1,752,000.

U. S. bonds were unchanged.

POOR CROP OUTLOOK AIDS WHEAT PRICES

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—Statements that the outlook for winter wheat southwest had become the worst in 10 years, formed a sustaining influence today for prices here. Texas received some rain, but dry weather and no snow covering were reported in Kansas and Oklahoma. Compared with last night, the market closed ⅛@¼c higher to a shade lower. In corn there was a net decline of ⅛c to ⅜c, oats finished unchanged to ⅛@¼c up and provisions at an advance of 2½@5c to 12½c.

Aside from the drought news regarding wheat was of a bearish sort, but there was no material selling pressure. The Russian crop situation and the prospects for continued heavy shipments were excellent. The Argentine harvest was progressing under the best of conditions and it was stated that samples of the new yield arriving in Europe from Buenos Aires were of splendid quality. Notwithstanding all this, sellers were shy and seemed not to relish a declaration from Kansas City that all the wheat let go now would be wanted back at 5c higher. Throughout the day prices here kept in almost perfect poise. May ranged from 95⅛c to 95⅝c, and closed a shade off at 95½@⅝c.

Huge receipts made the corn market heavy. May fluctuated between 46⅞c and 47¼c, with the close at 47c, a net loss of ⅜c. Cash corn was weak. No. 2 yellow finished at 51@51½c.

Shorts were fair buyers of oats. May sold from 33⅝c to 34@34⅛c, closing ⅛c up at 34@34⅛.

Provisions advanced on buying, but eased a bit under offerings from manufacturers. At the end, pork showed a net gain of 7½c to 12½c; lard, 2½@5c to 5c, and ribs 5c to 5@7½c.

Maria Habella, the "Damascus Beauty," who tells a marvelous story of capture and escape from an oriental harem in Turkey. Miss Habella arrived in New York recently, accompanied by Atone Jahara, a married man, who, she says, rescued her from an unwelcome incarceration. She states that she was lured to the palace of a rich pasha and became his favorite. Upon his death, however, the pasha's eldest son, now in power, imprisoned Marie Habella and threatened to kill her should she attempt to escape. According to her story, she begged Jahara to assist her, and he supplied her with money to bribe the guards so that she could leave the palace.

Miss Habella states that she knew Jahara was married, but that his wife knew of his adventure, and even supplied her with the necessary clothes with which to make her journey to America. Her sister, a woman of considerable wealth, who lives in Brooklyn, is making a strong fight to save her from being deported, but, as her story conflicts with that of her lover, it is improbable that she will be allowed to remain in this country.

A HOLD-UP THAT WAS FUTILE

From Forest and Stream.

Highway robbery, practiced by one bird upon another, is not very unusual. Many of us have seen one wild bird snatch from another some bit of food that he has secured, and a procession of chickens in pursuit of one of their number that has obtained a morsel too large to be swallowed at once is a common sight wherever chickens are kept. A famous and very impressive example of this robbery takes place when the bald eagle chases the fish-hawk that has captured a prey, and forcing it to drop the fish appropriate it to its own uses. Gulls of various species are also great robbers, and in fact, many of them live by this trade. In the Wilson Bulletin, L. S. Kohler describes an unusual battle over food in which a pair of red-headed woodpeckers and four blue-jays were quarreling and fighting over a large fragment of decayed suet. He says: "The redheads were in possession of the morsel and the jays were doing their best to get it away from them. The jays repeatedly attacked and were repulsed as often by the woodpeckers, the latter easily dispersing the assaulters by attempting to pierce the bodies of the jays with their sharp bills. The jays' principal method of attack was to singly pounce down near the redheads on the trunk of the tree on which the woodpeckers had established themselves and utter shrill cries and try to snatch the suet, but on finding that single attempts were of no avail they rallied their forces and then made a general advance, each adopting a different method of strategy to gain the desired end. All their efforts were of no use, and after almost a half hour of fierce battle, the jays left the redheads, with their quarry, and flew off, apparently much disappointed and disgusted, to the other end of the grove. Bearing in mind that the jays are not prone to give in quickly and are also quite covetous, I remained sitting on a fallen stump just out of view of the redheads and watched. Several times a single jay returned to the scene of battle, approaching as quickly as possible until assured that the woodpeckers were still on guard, and then with loud calls flew back and joined its fellows."

What the Press Agents Say

"THE FORTUNE HUNTER"

"The Fortune Hunter," by Winchell Smith, one of the greatest successes the American stage has ever known, will be presented here under the direction of Messrs. Cohan and Harris, with an excellent company of players, on Monday at the Opera House for an engagement of one night only.

The story of "The Fortune Hunter" is of Nat [illegible] a young man who goes to a country town to win a country heiress and live luxuriously if not happily on her money. He meets a lovable old villager who invents things, but who cannot make a dollar. His drug store is about to be closed up for unpaid notes at the bank when the fortune hunter interferes. Without in the least understanding his impulse he uses part of the money which his rich friend has loaned him for the heiress-hunting venture to pay the note.

In short, old Graham is the first [illegible] fluence of old Graham as Frank Bacon plays him. This rare artist in character painting presents the old villager as simple naive a dreamer and gentle enthusiast, one who naturally trusts and loves his fellowmen with that sweet serenity of affection which is content just to be and to flow out silently toward all, never intruding, never thinking of return, dignified not proud grateful to God for all that is good and just because it is always pouring out so much for others—sufficient for itself. This is something of what Frank Bacon portrays with a ripe sure, authoritative art and warms with the mellow light of a genuine temperament.

FRANK BACON.

As the old druggist in "The Fortune Hunter" at the Opera House Monday night.

RAIN STORM IN "THE FORTUNE HUNTED."
Winchell Smith's comedy which comes to the Opera House Monday night with Fred Niblo in the title role.

[illegible] Nat has ever found more [illegible] helpless than himself in the world of business and he just naturally and immensely begins to take care of him. Comedy thickens fast and the end of it all is that Nat makes a big success of old Sam Graham's drug store and patents, and marries Graham's daughter for love. It is a deliciously interesting story and underneath its humor it is very true.

Nat Duncan is not the first disheartened young man who has been re-created just through finding a weaker brother to care for, but it is not only the "weaker brother" that turns the "fortune hunter" into a man [illegible] [illegible] away from tapestried [illegible] valets and from highballs and false values to work that is [illegible] high and right enough to be done all for work's sake and manhood's [illegible] and not to make a headline [illegible] front page story.

"A STRANDED ACTRESS AND A STATION AGENT"

"A Poseyville Flirtation," the farcical sketch which is making such a hit at the Majestic this week concerns an actress who lands at a country station broke and the rustic youth who is the local agent. A young gentleman named Powers, who both looks and acts the part to perfection, does the bumpkin stunt and the stuff he gets off and the way he gets it off keeps every house in an uproar. A petite, shapely, neatly gowned young lady booked as Miss Wilson stages the actress feature and she not only does it cleverly, but gives an exhibition of toe dancing that could hardly be excelled.

[illegible] act is full of ludicrous stuff, pathos being well mixed with humor. [illegible] many novelties are introduced [illegible] that it is a succession of [illegible] surprises. The dance of [illegible] at the close is close to a [illegible] and brings them a great hand at the curtain.

This act is one of the distinct hits [illegible] is full of strong features [illegible] stars as Melville J. Gideon, the famous song writer and [illegible] "The American Beauty" and Captain Barry, the great sketch [illegible] Daniel J. Sullivan the noted tenor star. The whole offering is [illegible] popular and is playing to exceptionally big houses.

Five Dollars a Box

The Price Cut No Figure With Him.

"I want to say for the benefit of some poor dyspeptic that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will give comfort and a cure every time. Five dollars a box would not stop [illegible] purchasing them should I ever suffer again as I did for a week before using them.

"The one 50-cent box I bought at my druggist's did the work and my digestion is all right again.

"Many of my neighbors have also tried these tablets and found them to be just as represented and Mr. Ellms also wants me to use his name in indorsing Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. (Signed)

"A. Ellms and Chas. [illegible] Burzell
"Asst. Postmaster,
"South Sudbury, Mass."

Mrs. Jas. Barton of Toronto, Canada, writes: "For eighteen months I suffered from what I supposed was bladder and kidney trouble, and took medicine from three different doctors, without any sign of cure. I felt so ill at last I was hardly able to do my work.

"I thought I would try a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and see if they would make me feel better, never really thinking I had dyspepsia, but after only three or four tablets had been taken all the acid trouble disappeared and then I discovered I had had acid dyspepsia, while the doctors had been treating me for kidney and bladder trouble and one of them treated me for rheumatism.

"My digestion is fine, my complexion clear and I am able to do my work and low spirits are unknown to me.

"I am thankful for finding a cure so good and so pleasant to take as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I am surprised at the change they have made in me."

All druggists sell and recommend Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they contain only the simple natural digestives, and taken after meals prevent acidity and cause prompt digestion and assimilation of food.

Physicians everywhere indorse them because they are as safe for the child as for the adult; they are invaluable for sour stomach, nervous dyspepsia, heartburn, gas on stomach and bowels and every form of stomach derangement.

DRUNKEN IMBROGLIO FRIGHTENS RESIDENTS

The usually peaceful neighborhood in the vicinity of the corner of Second street and Lincoln avenue, was surprised and somewhat shocked Monday night about 8 o'clock when a series of loud cries, mingled with curses, broke the stillness. Three residents phoned to the police in rapid succession and told them that "something awful" was happening. The officers hurried to the place only to find no one in sight.

Later a drunken man was found in the alley, and he admitted that he had been quarreling with some drunken friends. After a night in the city jail he was allowed to go to his home in Colorado Springs.

MRS. AGNES WOODWARD INJURED IN RUNAWAY

The only injury she received was the gash in her head but for a time it was thought that her skull was fractured. The accident happened just as the 6 o'clock whistle blew, frightening the horse which reared and overturned the buggy.

BIG HAWK BROUGHT HERE

A large hawk of an unknown species was brought to this city yesterday by Henry Morrison and W. Vangerfit of Woodland Park, and sold to a local saloon. The hawk was caught after a clever bit of bird trapping on the part of Morrison, who has been catching birds for several years. A supple wire noose forms the trap, and Morrison has profited much by his device. The hawk is one of the largest ever seen here, measuring 59 inches from tip to tip.
